13th Victim Of Mad Camden Gunman Dies

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—The toll in Camden's River Road mass shooting rose to 13 today with the death of 10-year-old John Wilson.

The youngster was the third member of his family claimed by the bullets of the stalking gunman who turned a city block into a place of terror Tuesday.

The boy's mother and grandmother were killed beside him Tuesday as they sat in their car waiting for a traffic light.

Three other persons were wounded in a hall of gunfire. Today, thousands flocked to normally quiet River Road to examine at first hand the bullet holes and other mute evidence of the massacre—described by police as the worst street shooting in this country's history.

While the families of the victims prepared to bury their dead, police maintained a round-the-clock vigil at the hospital bedside of Howard Unruh, 28-year-old Bible-reading war veteran who collected guns as a hobby.

A bullet was removed from Unruh's leg Tuesday night at Cooper Hospital—less than 12 hours after he had pumped 33 shots from a German Luger automatic in a methodical door-to-door search for human targets.

Captured when police tear-gas bombs forced him from his own barricaded bedroom, Unruh later was found to have the hip wound. It was not determined immediately whether the bullet came from the gun of a civilian or one of the 50 policemen who converged on his hideout.

Since then he had remained at home. Neighbors said he frequently was seen reading a Bible as he walked down the street.

Unruh—an otherwise calm, studious type thought by many of his neighbors to have been a divinity student—was charged with murder before he was taken to the hospital. His formal arraignment will depend on the psychiatrists' report, Cohen said.

The tragedy brought conflicting reports of exactly what happened. Cohen said Unruh told inmate slayings were part of a "pre-conceived plan."

In a statement made to authorities, Unruh gave his own version: "Shouldering resentment of his character" grew in intensity through the last two years.

Monday evening, Unruh left his mother, with whom he had lived, and went to Philadelphia to attend a movie. He sat through a double feature "two or three times," eventually returning to Camden about 3 a.m.

Tuesday morning, Unruh ate a hearty breakfast. Then, carrying the .38-caliber Luger automatic loaded with a clip of eight bullets and with other shells in his pockets, Unruh walked calmly out onto River Road.

The tragedy began unfolding.

Writer Suspected Of Suicide Attempt

SANTA MONICA, Cal. (UP)—Mystery writer Craig Rice, 40, was in critical condition today from what police called an apparent suicide attempt.

She was released from the General Hospital here only last week declared sane after threatening to take her life.

Dr. Vincent Depaulo, her physician at the Santa Monica Hospital, said the novelist was in a coma and he suspected it was caused by barbiturate tablets or some other sedative.

"She retired early Monday night and has not been conscious since," Depaulo said today. "She is improving slowly and we are giving her oxygen and stimulants in an attempt to revive her."

Miss Rice told police last week that her threat to kill herself was an overdose of sleeping tablets was an attempt to win back her estranged fifth husband, writer Henry W. Demott, 29.

"Ten-and-a-half hours later, her hopes and those of her publicity man were dashed," the Mirror said.

The newspaper did not point out that Mickman is the son of a wealthy Yorkshire industrialist who financed his son's swim and that Shirley is the daughter of a gas burner repair man who needed outside backing to get her to England.

OTTAWA (CP)—Three United States navy vessels have returned to east coast ports after taking a joint U.S.-Canadian expedition to Arctic weather stations maintained by the two countries.

The External Affairs Department said the ships supplied a joint station, established on Cornwall Island, some 1,500 miles due north of Winnipeg, in 1947. It, in turn, will supply stations farther north on Prince Patrick, Elles Ringnes and Ellesmere Islands.

Two helicopters were carried on one of the ships—the ice-breaker Edisto—and were used on ice reconnaissance flights. Two cargo ships were also in the expedition.

Aussies May Seek New Loan

CANBERRA (CP)—Prime Minister J. B. Chifley told the House of Representatives today Australia is examining the possibility of raising a dollar loan.

In a budget speech, the Prime Minister said that because of its outstanding commitments the government would not be able to achieve a full 25 per cent cut in dollar imports this year, as proposed at the London Commonwealth conference.

Although the government in general is averse to increasing long-term dollar commitments, "there are various possible sources of dollar borrowing and the matter will be decided in the light of circumstances," Chifley said.

The Prime Minister said the budget anticipates a record expenditure of $541,000,000 ($1,758,250,000) compared with actual expenditure of $535,000,000 in 1948-49. Revenues are estimated at $532,000,000.

Chifley said the government would make a further grant of $10,000,000 to the United Kingdom and additional payments to Australian states which would bring the total expenditures to $567,000,000. He said a deficit of $35,000,000 would be financed by loans.

London Newspaper Scores Publicity For Shirley May

DOVER, Eng. (UP)—Shirley May France, unsuccessful Channel swimmer, will go to Paris tomorrow for a two-day vacation and leave London for home next Monday, it was disclosed today.

The 17-year-old Somerset, Mass., student, who was pulled out of the Channel seven miles from her goal and 10 hours and 39 minutes out of France, made her plans as the London Daily Express leveled a mild attack at her.

The Express said that Shirley had originally intended to swim the Channel in the nude, but donned a bathing suit because she had to advertise the film "Black Magic," produced by one of her backers.

"So Shirley finally wore a bathing suit with the name of the film inscribed across her chest," the newspaper said.

At the same time the London Daily Mirror compared Shirley's attempt with the successful swim of the 18-year-old British schoolboy Philip Mickman.

The Mirror said that there were "no bands, no ballyhoo" for Mickman but that "Shirley" started amid a shower of rockets and was pursued by a U.S. publicity armada.

"Ten-and-a-half hours later, her hopes and those of her publicity man were dashed," the Mirror said.

The newspaper did not point out that Mickman is the son of a wealthy Yorkshire industrialist who financed his son's swim and that Shirley is the daughter of a gas burner repair man who needed outside backing to get her to England.

Police Think Phony Money Ring 'On Run'

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto police said today they believed the criminal ring flooding Canada with millions of dollars in phony bills had distributors in every large city in the country. "The heat is on and the distributors are scattering," one police official said.

Within the last 24 hours bogus $10 bills have been found in Toronto, Montreal, Windsor, London, Vancouver, Fort Erie and Cornwall, Ont., and all were printed from the same printing press.

$8,000,000 Ship Contracts To Be Announced By Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—Contracts for six new naval and other government vessels costing about $8,000,000 will be announced today by the government.

The ships, all to be built in Canadian yards, are understood to include four minesweepers and a trawler-gate vessel for the navy and a large vessel for the Department of Transport.

The orders are in addition to contracts for three anti-submarine escort vessels which were placed last summer at $8,000,000 apiece. These three are to be built in Halifax, Montreal and Vancouver.

The combined naval orders represent the biggest peacetime construction program in the navy's history. It is expected the building will be spread over a considerable period, with the larger anti-sub vessels taking about three years to complete.

Work on the contracts to be announced today will be distributed through yards in various parts of Canada, which in the past year have been suffering a dearth of work and have cut their manpower down to little more than 10,000—a fraction of wartime payrolls.

Plants on the east and west coasts, the St. Lawrence River and the Great Lakes will share in the work. The bulk of the $8,000,000 worth of building will be done on the river.

The contracts are to be announced by Defence Minister Claxton here, at Lauzon, Que., by Transport Minister Chevrier in an address at the launching of a new Canadian government Arctic patrol vessel.

The 2,600-ton vessel is to take over the annual patrol formerly carried out by the Hudson's Bay Co. ship Nascope, which foundered during her 1947 trip in Hudson Bay. To be named the C. D. Howe—after Canada's Trade Minister—she was built by the Davie Shipbuilding and Repairing Co.

Promises Country Will Do Best But Cannot Win Alone

BRIDLINGTON, Eng. (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee today denounced opponents of Britain's Labor government who he said were trying to make "bad blood" between Britain and the United States.

In an address before the Trades Union Congress, 9,000,000-member backbone of the Labor Party, Attlee promised Britain would do its utmost to solve the dollar shortage which threatens Britain with economic disaster.

But, he added, the problem "cannot be solved by any one government in isolation."

"There is a lot of effort being put out to try to make bad blood between Britain and the United States," he said.

"There are people here who do their utmost to foment hostility in the United States to the Labor government. They seek for party aims to play on the prejudices of ill-informed sections of American opinion."

STATEMENT IS CLEAR

"They also seek to cause disunity by suggesting the United States will seek to interfere with the internal policy of this country. In this they join hands with the Communists. The emphatic statement of President Truman (in Philadelphia) should silence them."

Truman Aug. 29 told the American Legion convention in Philadelphia the United States would help Britain in her financial crisis and said the democratic nations would not interfere with one another's internal politics.

Attlee said "There are in the ranks of our Conservative opponents those—I think they are a minority—who would welcome economic difficulties for this country in the hope that if things get serious they might overthrow the Labor government."

"In this they are one with the Communists, who would welcome a Tory government. The Communists will no doubt continue their policy of fomenting industrial disputes wherever they think that there is favorable ground."

The government has blamed many recent strikes on the Communists, including the recent crippling dockers' strike.

Attlee said the "plain truth" of the dollar crisis was that "this difficulty of international payments would have faced any government."

In a reference to the three-power dollar talks opening today in Washington, Attlee said: "When I entrust important business of this kind to two colleagues (Foreign Secretary Bevin and Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer) in whom I have complete confidence, I leave the matter in their hands."

"My cabinet colleagues and I have had full discussion on the subject matter of these talks, a policy has been decided and it is for the Chancellor of the Exchequer and the Foreign Secretary to carry it out. While they are engaged in this task, the less said the better."

Britain is "sometimes falsely represented," Attlee said, as being a "mere suppliant" for American aid.

"In dealing with the problems of the postwar world, Britain and the United States have been partners."

Aid Also Given By Britain

"The United States has been generous in providing aid to countries and peoples who suffered the ravages of war and in helping those whose economies were thrown out of gear by their efforts in the common cause. But do not let us forget Britain also has done its share in helping others."

Attlee said aid given by Britain to other countries totaled $3,600,000,000 and cited Winston Churchill for using these payments as the basis for an attack on the government.

"I was surprised and indeed rather shocked when Mr. Churchill in a recent speech made this reproach against the Labor government, for many of these payments were the direct result of policies decided by the government of which he was the head."

"His strictures came oddly from the great advocate of European unity. We are not ashamed of having helped others."

Attlee called on employers and employees alike to make "an all out" effort to produce the goods needed for dollar markets.

"He warned that while he did not believe in lowering wages to reduce costs, it was necessary to realize that increases in wages not matched by increases of production would greatly imperil the country's chances of rapidly getting over her difficulties."

First Free Parliament In Germany Since 1933 Meets

BONN, Germany (Reuter)—A German republic was reborn here today when the new western parliament met formally under the black, red and gold flag of the old Weimar regime.

The Berlin banner flew as an equal among flags of the 11 West German states when 43 appointed members of the Upper House (Bundesrat) in the presence of many of the 402 elected members of the Lower House (Bundestag) solemnly inaugurated the Republic.

First act of the Upper House was to choose young, vigorous Karl Arnold, left-wing Catholic Premier of North-Rhine Westphalia, as its President.

He appealed for a quick end to Germany's "minor status" in international affairs.

Chancellor-designate, Conrad Adenauer, Christian Democrat leader who will form a coalition of the Right, including the Free Democrats and the German Party, did not attend the Bundestag session.

(In an interview today, he said he would urge the inclusion of Berlin as the 12th state in the new federation.)

Weather Forecast

Continuing clear today and Thursday, a little cooler. Light winds, increasing to southwest, 15 m.p.h. both afternoons. Low tonight, 52; high Thursday, 75.

Inquiry Fails To Solve Lake Mystery

Vital Parley Under Way At Washington

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Britain, Canada and the United States began momentous talks today on the financial crisis which threatens Britain.
Top foreign policy and economic chiefs of the three countries met in a walnut-paneled room at the State Department. Seated in leather-backed armchairs, they grouped about a 20-foot glass-topped table.
Before they closed the doors, they permitted newscameras to record the opening, welcoming remarks.
Delegation chiefs spoke hopefully of constructive results, but all shied away from forecasts of any specific actions.
Foreign Minister Bevin of Britain said the United States, Britain and Canada must "harmonize all our political, financial and economic actions." That is necessary, he said, to lay "the correct foundation for the future peace of the world." He called Britain's difficulties "the inevitable aftermath of two world wars."
Treasury Secretary Louis Snyder of the United States said he felt "sure" that "in an atmosphere of friendly and constructive conversation and discussions we can find some ground on which to work out the problems that are facing us today—not only in the United States, but in the world."
Finance Minister Abbott of Canada said he too felt sure "that these discussions will result in our finding some helpful way of meeting these difficulties."
He said the problems facing the conference are of "vital interest to my country."
For the next week or so they will be in repeated session there.

Municipal Heads In Session Here

Over 300 delegates and guests registered today for the 46th annual convention of the B.C. Union of Municipalities at the Empress Hotel. In the picture are four of the leaders of the three-day meeting, left to right, Mayor Percy George, Victoria, president of the union; Mayor Nora E. Arnold of Prince Rupert; Mayor Charles Thompson of Vancouver and Mayor Loran Jordan of Port Alberni. It is the first time in 15 years the union has held a conference in the capital city.

Look To Bevin As Leader

The Canadian and U.S. delegations look to Bevin to lead the making proposals for action. Bevin was reported armed with a number of what his aides called "suggestions."
Mostly these were concerned with ways Britain can save dollars by cutting down on American purchases and ways the U.S. may get more dollars into British hands through foreign spending and investments. There are ideas, too, to assist the sale of British goods in the United States.
Bevin described the three-power conference as a means "to win the struggles for one world, one world of free and democratic peoples."

May Relax Loan Agreement

At the same time they want to relax a 1946 Anglo-American loan agreement provision so that Britain can increase discrimination against buying U.S. goods.
These and other measures, which American officials are expected to receive sympathetically, are designed to increase the flow of badly-needed dollars to Britain and to enable Britain to curtail the spending of the dollars and gold it now has.
Treasury Secretary Snyder, who carries the ball for the U.S., promised a public report on the first session today as well as periodic disclosures on further sessions.
State Secretary Dean Acheson and Paul Hoffman, chief of the Economic Co-operation Administration, are serving with Snyder on the U.S. Delegation.
In addition to Mr. Abbott, Canada is represented by Hon. L. B. Pearson, Minister for External Affairs.

Yugoslavs Said To See No Threat

STOCKHOLM (AP)—A Yugoslav government leader said today "Yugoslavia does not feel under any threat of aggression from either her Cominform neighbors or Russia."
Vladimir Simic, speaker of the Yugoslav Parliament, said of rumors about reported troops movements along Yugoslavia's borders: "I am just as surprised as the rest of the world. We want peace with everybody."
Simic is heading the only eastern European delegation to the 30-country Inter-Parliamentary Union here.

British Election In March Or June Likely

MONTREAL (CP)—Britain's general election will take place either in March or June of next year, Maurice Webb, chairman of the parliamentary Labor Party, said in arriving here.
In Canada to attend the conference on Commonwealth relations at Blgwin Inn, Ont., Mr. Webb said the Labor government might go to the country this year if the dollar talks in Washington failed.
"If the talks should fail," he said, "it is likely Labor would be returned with a strong majority. Any attempt by America to dictate our internal policies would rally opinion around the government."

Victoria Shipyards Await Announcement On Contract Awards

Both of Victoria's major shipyards today hopefully awaited news of the Dominion government announcement of award of six new naval and other government vessels costing about $8,000,000.
An Ottawa dispatch said the announcement would be made sometime today and that the contracts would be distributed through yards in various parts of Canada.
The ships are understood to include four minesweepers and a trawler-gate vessel for the Royal Canadian Navy, and a large vessel for the Department of Transport.

The order to be placed in Victoria is not expected to exceed $1,000,000.
These new contracts are in addition to those for three anti-submarine escort vessels placed last summer at $8,000,000 each and one of which is being built in Vancouver.

Germans Report Russians Offer New East-West Terms

BERLIN (AP)—German newspapers today printed unconfirmed reports that Russia has offered the west a new six-point scheme to end east-west differences in Berlin and Germany.
Western Allied officials in Berlin described the story as a Communist trial balloon. In London, the foreign office said it had heard rumors Russia had proposed a new Berlin settlement. A spokesman stressed, however, that Britain had no official knowledge of such a move.
Newspapers in Berlin and Hamburg carried the story. They credited it to the Stockholm newspaper Dagbladet Nyheter, which quoted "Allied sources in Berlin." The story was distributed in Berlin by the Allied-licensed news agency DPA.
The six points listed were:
1. Russia would recognize the West German Republic at Bonn, and the Western Powers would recognize an east zone government.
2. The Soviet sector of Berlin would come under western administration.
3. Berlin would become the 12th district in the West German Federal state, connected to the western occupation zones by a corridor.
4. Russia would be given a free port in Hamburg, with a corridor through the British zone.
5. Russia would be represented in the Western Allies' Ruhr Valley control authority.
6. The Soviet-backed east mark, now worth one-fifth of the 30-cent west mark, would be stabilized at an exchange rate of 2.25 to one west mark.

Wary Victorians Refuse To Accept Ten-Dollar Bills

Despite discovery of a series of counterfeit $10 bills at many B.C. mainland points, Victoria banks today report they have discovered none so far.
Banks throughout this area were alerted Tuesday following reports from Vancouver that more than $2,500 in bogus banknotes had been seized during the week-end.
After the news became public, there were several instances of Victorians refusing to accept $10 bills, fearing their origin.
In the Greater Vancouver area today the total seized R.C.M.P. officers counted 394 counterfeit $10 bills seized in an intensive investigation in the suspected Dominion-wide attempt to flood the country with the fake banknotes.

TWO CHARGED

Two suspected members of the counterfeit ring were charged in Vancouver this morning. Lloyd Presley, 28, was charged with possession of and circulating counterfeit money. Eugene Lewis, 20, is charged with possession.

A slackening in recovery of the counterfeit bills on the mainland is reported, but R.C.M.P. officers warned the public to be on the alert for possible bogus $5 and $20 bills which they fear may come to B.C. in a new wave. None has yet turned up.
Bogus notes also were reported found in Mission, Cloverdale and White Rock.

Further details of the counterfeit bills were given here by the R.C.M.P. and the information is being circulated to banks throughout Vancouver Island.

SMUDGE EASILY

In addition to earlier descriptions, investigators have discovered the serial numbers appear to have been put on after the bills have been manufactured. One of the most important things, in the opinion of bank officials, is the fact the ink used on the fake bills will smudge easily under a moist finger.

It also has been discovered that the counterfeiters appear to have been using four prefix numbers to the serial numbers on the bills. These may be either S-D, T-D, U-D or R-D.

Arrest Of Young Trio Here Solves Several Robberies

Several recent robberies of business premises and car prowls have been solved with the arrest here of a juvenile and two older youths, Chief of Detectives Harry Mercer reported today.
The arrests were made by Det.-Sgt. Henry Jarvis and Det. Louis Callan.

After questioning the arrested trio, the police have recovered a large amount of loot, including $500 worth of clothing from a cleaning establishment, two rifles, tools, a camera and an assortment of other things stolen.

Insp.-Mercer said that while two of the boys would only face one charge, the third would be charged on three or four counts of breaking and entering and thefts.
The arrests resulted after several days of investigation by the plainclothesmen.

Police Study New Facts On Girl's Death

Following a preliminary inquest today, mystery still surrounded the death of attractive, 18-year-old Roberta Ann Smith, 3163 Gamma Street, whose body was discovered Saturday morning afloat in Thetis Lake.
Cause of death was established, however, by Dr. Ross G. D. McNeely, pathologist at Royal Jubilee Hospital, who conducted a post-mortem examination of the girl. The doctor testified the girl died from drowning at the inquest which opened this morning and was adjourned until next Tuesday.

The girl was alive and breathing when she entered the water, the doctor related, but died subsequently from drowning.
He said the only marks he found on the girl's body were a bruise to the upper lip and a bruise beneath the left eye. He said the eye bruise was "an early bruise" and was just beginning to blacken.

He said the body was in no way diseased and that there were no indications of any violence.
Questioned by Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, Dr. McNeely said there was no pregnancy.
The doctor said he performed the autopsy on the girl's body about 10 Saturday morning and from his examination determined she must have died 12 to 14 hours previous. This would fix time of death between 8 and 10 Friday night.

Alive On Entering Water

The doctor said he could not say whether or not the girl was conscious when she entered the water; only that she was alive.
Evidence by the doctor strengthened the first theory of police that the girl may have fallen from steep rocks on the lake shore, injuring herself in the fall.

Police, however, report perplexing circumstances in the case, however, which need some explanation before this is accepted. For one thing, the girl had on slacks when pulled from the water early Saturday morning but when she left home the previous evening to go on duty at the B.C. Telephone office where she worked nights on the switchboard, she was wearing a suit.

Police are trying to determine the temperament of the girl. They have conflicting reports. While some have described her as reserved and not a good mixer, members of her family deny this, claiming she was the life of their home.
Investigation has determined the girl went to Thetis Lake alone on a bus. She was not noticed by several passengers on the bus and also by people at the lake.
Shortly after her arrival at the lake she was seen seated on a bench reading a True Confession magazine. The magazine was found in her effects.
Pending further investigation of the case by Provincial Police, the inquest jury adjourned until next Tuesday.

Australia Scans Chances Of Raising Dollar Loan

CANBERRA (CP)—Prime Minister J. B. Chifley told the House of Representatives today Australia is examining the possibility of raising a dollar loan.
In a budget speech, the Prime Minister said that because of its outstanding commitments the government would not be able to achieve a full 25 per cent cut in dollar imports this year, as proposed at the London Commonwealth conference.
TO SURVEY FIELD
Although the government in general is averse to increasing long-term dollar commitments, "there are various possible sources of dollar borrowing and the matter will be decided in the light of circumstances," Chifley said.
The Prime Minister said the budget anticipates a record expenditure of $541,000,000 ($1,758,250,000) compared with actual expenditure of $535,000,000 in 1948-49. Revenues are estimated at $532,000,000.
Chifley said the government would make a further grant of $10,000,000 to the United Kingdom and additional payments to Australian states which would bring the total expenditures to $567,000,000. He said a deficit of $35,000,000 would be financed by loans.

Cold On Mount Ararat

ISTANBUL, Turkey (UP)—The expedition from the United States searching for Noah's Ark on Mt. Ararat battled freezing weather today in one last effort to find the ancient hulk.
A Turkish correspondent with the expedition wired his newspaper, "We are freezing."
Dr. Aaron J. Smith of Greensboro, N.J., leader of the expedition, offered cash prizes to Turkish guides who find any trace of the vessel which herdsman reported seeing during past years in a glacier on Ararat.

Not To Face Trial

LONDON (Reuters)—Duke Tommaso Gallarati Scotti, Italian ambassador in London, rejected an Ethiopian request, made to him Tuesday, for Italy to surrender former army marshals Pietro Badoglio and Rodolfo Graziani for trial as war criminals.

One Woman's Day

BOSWELL BOND
By NANCY HODGES
CHATTING with an American visitor the other day, something came up about the common characteristics shared by his countrymen and us Canadians. And he made the observation that it was a pity more emphasis wasn't placed on points of resemblance than on our points of difference.

If that were done, he opined, less harm would come of the tendency of some Americans—as well as of some Canadians and Britons—to magnify the monetary crisis into mountainous proportions, instead of relegating it to its proper level as a temporary molehill in the path of Anglo-American relations.

LITERARY LINKS
HIS WORDS came back to me as I read of the recent acquisition by Yale University of the private papers of James Boswell, the great Scot known "the world over" as the biographer of Dr. Samuel Johnson, the famous English writer, his 18th century contemporary.

Boswell, who was born in Edinburgh in 1740 and became a barrister, as well as laird of Auchinleck, not only did a lot of traveling but a lot of writing before he died in 1795.

A keen student and literary genius, he recorded his impressions of the great and near-great of the European scene of his day, incorporating them into his books, particularly his Life of Samuel Johnson, with such fidelity as to make them classics as well as authentic, three-dimensional pictures of the period.

BY THE TRUNK LOAD
IN ADDITION to the work involved in his books, Boswell was a prolific letter-writer. Much of this vast correspondence, together with other personal papers, was "lost" for 150 years in an Irish castle and a Scottish mansion.

Then in 1927, one of Boswell's descendants, Lord Talbot de Malahide, sold a mass of manuscript and other Boswelliana to Col. Ralph Isham, the New York collector.

Since that time Col. Isham has continued building up his collection from United Kingdom and other sources until, when handed over to Yale, it required eight great trunk-like cases to hold it. Steps are now being taken to publish the Boswell papers in book form.

LITERARY TREASURE
THIS acquisition by an American university of the literary output of a great Scottish writer makes for another of those cultural ties which the two countries already share in such abundance.

Shakespeare, Horace Walpole, Boswell, Johnson and other literary "greats" born of the British tradition now mean as much to American literati as they do to those of the British Isles—thanks to our common heritage of language and ideals.

And while to some Britons, the departure of the Boswell papers to the United States may cause regret, to me it seems more in the nature of fulfillment of Boswell's own evaluation of himself: "Citizen of the world, as I hold myself to be."

THE DYING ART

BUT at this point I can't help wondering what would have happened if Boswell and the other literary giants of the past had not been such prolific letter-writers. The world would have been cheated of an invaluable source of material for an understanding of the period.

The art of letter-writing is fast dying out—thanks to the advent of the typewriter, the telephone, the radio and the mail.

It arouses speculation as to how future students of history are going to fare when they come to look for original material on which to base their evaluations of our times, modes and manners.

Writer Suspected Of Suicide Attempt

SANTA MONICA, Cal. (UP)—Mystery writer Craig Rice, 40, was in critical condition today from what police called an apparent suicide attempt.

She was released from the General Hospital here only last week declared sane after threatening to take her life.

Dr. Vincent Depaulo, her physician at the Santa Monica Hospital, said the novelist was in a coma and he suspected it was caused by barbiturate tablets or some other sedative.

"She retired early Monday night and has not been conscious since," Depaulo said today. "She is improving slowly and we are giving her oxygen and stimulants in an attempt to revive her."

Miss Rice told police last week that her threat to kill herself with an overdose of sleeping tablets was an attempt to win back her estranged fifth husband, writer Henry W. DeMott, 29.

Ejecting 200 Families

GLASGOW, Sept. 7 (CP)—A Scottish regiment moved into Hall Hill Camp at Baillieston in a move to oust squatters occupying army huts there. The action is designed as a "test case" in the army's efforts to eject some 200 families now occupying 28 army camps in Scotland.

ISTANBUL (Reuters)—British and U.S. military mission staffs Tuesday attended the opening of Turkish army and air force manoeuvres in Thrace. Army units taking part are equipped with the latest arms and supplies under the American aid program.

Reporter Phones Maniacal Killer Trapped In Room

By PHILIP W. BUXTON
Camden Evening Courier Reporter

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—Howard B. Unruh, wholesale killer, was not too busy to answer the telephone while he was still shooting it out with police in his home Tuesday.

Purely on a hunch, I called Camden 5-2490-W, which was the number listed for Unruh. The time of the call was shortly after 10 a.m., while Unruh, gun in hand, was still exchanging shots with a cordon of police after he had slain a dozen persons. (A death later raised the total to 13.)

The result of that telephone call was one of the strangest interviews this writer has had in his long newspaper experience.

I was about to hang up, thinking my hunch had been a dud, when I heard the receiver go up on the other end of the line.

"Hello," said a strong, clear voice.

"Is this Howard?" I asked.

"Yes," said the voice, "this is Howard. What's the last name of the party you want?"

Breathless, I strained my ears to catch the sound of shooting, but there was only silence. It seemed as though the man at the other end of the line had clapped his hand over the receiver to shut out the sound.

Then the voice, as if stalling for time, repeated:

"What's the last name of the man you want?"

"Unruh," I said.

"Who are you and what do you want?"

"DOING PLENTY"

"I'm a friend and I want to know what they're doing to you."

"Well, they haven't done anything to me yet, but I'm doing plenty to them."

"How many have you killed?"

"I don't know yet—I haven't counted 'em, but it looks like a pretty good score."

"Why are you killing people?"

"I don't know. I can't answer that yet—I'm too busy. I'll have to talk to you later. A couple of friends are coming to get me."

With that last statement there was a click on the other end of the phone. The man had hung up. Efforts to get him back on the telephone were fruitless. Apparently the "friends" Unruh mentioned in his telephone conversation were the police to whom he surrendered after he had been forced out of his barricaded home by tear gas.

13th Victim Of Mad Camden Gunman Dies

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—The toll in Camden's River Road mass shooting rose to 13 today with the death of 10-year-old John Wilson.

The youngster was the third member of his family claimed by the bullets of the stalking gunman who turned a city block into a place of terror Tuesday.

The boy's mother and grandmother were killed beside him Tuesday as they sat in their car waiting for a traffic light.

Three other persons were wounded in a hail of gunfire. Today, thousands flocked to normally quiet River Road to examine at first hand the bullet holes and other mute evidence of the massacre—described by police as the worst street shooting in this country's history.

Police Think Phony Money Ring 'On Run'

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto police said today they believed the criminal ring flooding Canada with millions of dollars in phony bills had distributors in every large city in the country. "The heat is on and the distributors are scattering," one police official said.

Within the last 24 hours bogus $10 bills have been found in Toronto, Montreal, Windsor, London, Vancouver, Fort Erie and Cornwall, Ont., and all were printed from the same printing press.

How To Tell Phony Money

OTTAWA (CP)—Good money looks good. Bad money looks bad. Compare a suspected bill with a genuine one. You can see the difference.

This was the advice today the R.C.M.P. headquarters were giving following reports that counterfeit $10 bills have been turning up in a number of centres across Canada from Montreal to Vancouver.

L. H. Nicholson, director of criminal investigation, issued a detailed description of the bogus bills to help Canadians spot them and possibly contribute to apprehension of the counterfeiters.

Assistant Commissioner Nicholson said: "The background of the note is much lighter than the genuine. The portrait of His Majesty lacks the life-like qualities of the genuine."

"The embossed braid appearing on the collar of His Majesty's uniform is practically non-existent in the counterfeit. The green planchettes which appear on the genuine currency are lacking on this counterfeit."

Planchettes, which can be seen by holding a genuine bill up to a strong light, are tiny, roundish green marks impregnated in the paper itself. They appear haphazardly through the bill in no apparent pattern.

"The ink on the counterfeit is a poor type and will smudge easily when rubbed with a wet fingertip. On bills which have appeared to date the prefix letters are as follows:

"S-D, T-D, U-D and R-D. (The letter 'D' appears directly below the other letters separated by a dash.)"

DETAILS LOST
"The face plate number appearing on this counterfeit is '2', as is also the back plate number. The portrait on the back of the note has lost most of the fine details and has a washed-out appearance. On the counterfeit the flag on the mast of the ship lying at anchor and the motors on the airplane which appears in the background are practically indistinct."

Indications that a sizable counterfeit ring may be passing the fake bills are the reports that they have turned up in Vancouver, Toronto, London, Windsor, Hamilton and Ottawa.

Attlee Scores Foes Who Would Split Britain, U.S.

BRIDLINGTON, Eng. (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee today denounced opponents of Britain's Labor government who, he said, were trying to make "bad blood" between Britain and the United States.

In an address before the Trades Union Congress, 9,000,000-member backbone of the Labor Party, Attlee promised Britain would do its utmost to solve the dollar shortage which threatens Britain with economic disaster.

But, he added, the problem "cannot be solved by any one government in isolation."

"There is a lot of effort being put out to try to make bad blood between Britain and the United States," he said.

"There are people here who do their utmost to foment hostility in the United States to the Labor government. They seek for party aims to play on the prejudices of ill-informed sections of American opinion."

"They also seek to cause disunity by suggesting the United States will seek to interfere with the internal policy of this country. In this they join hands with the Communists. The emphatic statement of President Truman (in Philadelphia) should silence them."

(Truman Aug. 29 told the American Legion convention in Philadelphia the United States would help Britain in her financial crisis, and said the democratic nations would not interfere with one another's internal politics.)

Attlee said "There are in the ranks of our Conservative opponents those—I think they are a minority—who would welcome economic difficulties for this country in the hope that if things get serious they might overthrow the Labor government."

London Newspaper Scores Publicity For Shirley May

DOVER, Eng. (UP)—Shirley May France, unsuccessful Channel swimmer, will go to Paris tomorrow for a two-day vacation and leave London for home next Monday, it was disclosed today.

The 17-year-old Somerset, Mass., student, who was pulled out of the Channel seven miles from her goal and 10 hours and 39 minutes out of France, made her plans as the London Daily Express leveled a mild attack at her.

The Express said that Shirley had originally intended to swim the Channel in the nude, but donned a bathing suit because she had to advertise the film "Black Magic," produced by one of her backers.

"So Shirley finally wore a bathing suit with the name of the film inscribed across her chest," the newspaper said.

At the same time the London Daily Mirror compared Shirley's attempt with the successful swim of the 18-year-old British schoolboy Philip Mickman.

The Mirror said that there were "no bands, no ballyhoo" for Mickman but that Shirley "started amid a shower of rockets and was pursued by a U.S. publicity armada."

"Ten-and-a-half hours later, her hopes and those of her publicity navy were dashed," the Mirror said.

The newspaper did not point out that Mickman is the son of a wealthy Yorkshire industrialist who financed his son's swim and that Shirley is the daughter of a gas burner repair man who needed outside backing to get her to England.

Psychiatrists Called In

Prosecutor Mitchell Cohen of Camden County said arrangements have been made for a mental examination of Unruh—either in the hospital or after his release, expected in the next 24 hours.

Four psychiatrists will question him, Cohen said, in an effort to determine whether insanity was involved in the shootings.

James Unruh of Haddonfield, N.J., expressed the opinion his brother went berserk because of nervousness brought on by his war service.

James said his brother served in Europe with the U.S. field artillery. After his discharge, Howard was employed for a while as a sheet metal worker. He entered Temple University's School of Pharmacy last fall, but quit after a month, giving "poor physical condition" as the reason. Since then he had remained at home.

Neighbors said he frequently was seen reading a Bible as he walked down the street.

Unruh—an otherwise calm, studious type thought by many of his neighbors to have been a divinity student—was charged with murder before he was taken to the hospital. His formal arraignment will depend on the psychiatrists' report, Cohen said.

The tragedy brought conflicting reports of exactly what happened. Cohen said Unruh told him the slayings were part of a "preconceived plan."

In a statement made to authorities, Unruh gave his own version: "Smouldering resentment of my neighbors' remarks about my character" grew in intensity through the last two years.

Monday evening, Unruh left his mother, with whom he had lived, and went to Philadelphia to attend a movie. He sat through a double feature "two or three times," eventually returning to Camden about 3 a.m.

Tuesday morning, Unruh ate a hearty breakfast. Then, carrying the .38-calibre Luger automatic loaded with a clip of eight bullets and with other shells in his pockets, Unruh walked calmly out onto River Road.

The tragedy began unfolding.

Ten Thousand Pupils Stock Up On Books As Lessons Resume

Mob scenes like this were witnessed in downtown book and school supplies stores Tuesday as Greater Victoria children got ready for the first day of studies today in the 1949-50 school term.

It was back to school Tuesday for more than 10,000 Greater Victoria children after two months of vacation and into school for the first time for about 1,600 kindergarten and Grade 1 tots.

School board officials said it was too early to be able to give exact enrollment but it was anticipated the total would be at least 10,500. Last term 10,100 children in the area filled the classrooms.

Children registered at the schools at 9 this morning, met their teachers, and learned a little of what was before them in the 1949-50 term. With lists in hand of books and supplies they will need in the coming months, the youngsters were allowed to go home around mid-morning.

The stores downtown were crowded this afternoon as the children checked off the lists. Wednesday morning work will begin in the class rooms.

1,200 IN GRADE 1

A rough estimate of Grade 1 enrollment this year was 1,200

while it was expected about 480 younger children were registered for kindergarten classes.

It was too early to give a report on participation in the provincial education department's school textbook rental plan for higher grades being instituted this year.

There was little doubt, though, that the plan would not be used by many. It means a big load from family budgets. It will be two years, though, before the plan will become fully effective as many books required were bought last year by students.

MOMENTOUS TALKS

WHEN RT. HON. ERNEST BEVIN, BRITAIN'S Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, left London last week for the conference which got under way in Washington today he said: "This is probably one of the most important missions in history; unless we can find the right answer to the financial and economic problems we shall not have laid a sound foundation for the future peace of the world." Last night, in New York, he further described the talks as "a mission to win the struggle for one world, a world of free and democratic peoples."

In view of the fact that before Mr. Bevin and Sir Stafford Cripps embarked on the Mauretania the British cabinet had adopted a 15,000-word outline of the policy to be followed at the conferences in the United States capital, it is not difficult to appreciate the gravity of the view which the Attlee ministry takes of the proceedings just beginning, or why the Foreign Secretary's first statement sounded a somewhat lugubrious note.

Britain's leading newspapers, while hopeful that the conferees will be able to evolve some formula to correct, or at least ameliorate, the present financial and economic disequilibrium between the dollar and sterling bloc, are frankly warning their readers to expect nothing of a spectacular nature to emerge from the discussions in Washington. Nor is it likely that either Mr. Bevin or Sir Stafford Cripps is anticipating smooth sailing. But if the lessons of democratic history, as reflected by the results of many straightforward discussions round the conference table by men of good will and honest intent, have been learned, this latest crisis which is plaguing a great part of the world may gradually pass.

That Canada's participants, Finance Minister Abbott and External Affairs Minister Pearson, will play an important role in Washington—regardless of this country's inescapable association with the dollar bloc—can be taken for granted. Both are thoroughly conversant with the problem confronting Great Britain; both fully realize the height of the political as well as the economic obstacles Mr. Bevin and Sir Stafford Cripps will have to scale in the United States capital if they are to land on a smoother fiscal path; and both are well aware of Canada's vital stake in the outcome of the conference. Until the conversations have produced some form of common level, of course, the layman finds himself obliged to remain in the speculative realm.

As a matter of fact, by another token, it is obvious that the financial and economic talks will have to be followed by, or dovetailed into, another conference dealing specifically with the proposal to evolve something approaching a joint foreign political program. It requires little imagination to understand the close relationship between the two. How far Canadian and British conferees will be able to get with their Washington opposite numbers in such matters, for instance, as plans for a Pacific Pact as a complementary arrangement to the North Atlantic Treaty likewise is highly problematical. But Mr. Bevin's belief that he and his colleague have embarked on "one of the most important missions in history" would seem to be a further indication of his personal conviction that very wide general scope must be given to the deliberations.

NOT JUST ON HIS SAY-SO

HOW MUCH CREDENCE MAY BE placed in the conviction of Marshal Tito that no war threatens the world, and "I would like to point out that there is no reason for people abroad to be upset or alarmed if we ourselves are not," is something for the individual to determine. There is logic in his supporting argument that "the consequences of the last war are still too close to us to admit the thought of a new one." The unfortunate fact persists, however, that the possibility of war does not necessarily fit into the neat pattern of logic. During this century at least, it has depended on the estimate of success on which aggressors have gambled. And it should be noted that "the consequences of the last war" might have been very different had the other side won. Totalitarians have an effective, if inhuman, way of handling defeated peoples.

However Tito's conviction may be assessed, on the other hand, there are other opinions from probably more balanced minds which profess the same outlook, though in general they are subject to qualification. Mr. Winston Churchill, for instance, in a guarded statement some months ago, saw a recession in the possibility of a shooting war. Historian Arnold Toynbee, in a brief quotation, foresaw no major developments in the immediate future. And Mr. Wickham Steed, former editor of The Times of London, recently lent emphasis to the theory that the risks of failure by an aggressive power faced by combined defences of other countries were such that chances of an outbreak of global hostilities have been minimized.

These views all present a more hopeful outlook for humanity. They will, nevertheless, be seen against a backdrop of experience which is not too reassuring. Men on the scene in Berlin in 1939 have reported the uneasiness and fear of consequences among Germans when Hitler launched his aggression against Poland. And in the United States the negotiations of Mr. Cordell Hull with two envoys from Japan lent a false air of security at the very time Japanese fleet units were steaming toward Pearl Harbor. Neither the uncertainty of the Germans when Poland was attacked, nor the apparent strength of the United States before Tojo pulled his sneak punch were sufficient deterrents to prevent Nazi and Japanese militarists from taking the gamble.

From this recent history, the western world has learned again that the price of liberty is eternal vigilance. And the cost of that vigilance is high. As Professor E. L. Woodward, well-known British historian and commentator, notes in an article in the New York Times Magazine:

"The prospect is bleak; our vast expenditure on defence is exasperating, tragic, absurd; yet there is no other way to safety. If this way had been taken before 1939 by the powers now signatories of the Atlantic Pact, we could have prevented World War II; once again we are back at the lesson of 'eternal vigilance' which the democracies find so hard to learn."

The possibilities of war may be less now than they have been since the tensions developed during the last two or three years, but not merely because Marshal Tito says so. Rather is any improvement attributable to the vigilance "which the democracies find so hard to learn." Again their collective wills, peace-loving people of this world have come to the realization that to those who recognize only the arguments of force, adequate power must be shown to make prohibitive the odds against aggression.

DR. G. G. SEDGEWICK

ALTHOUGH HE WAS BORN IN NOVA Scotia, this province for more than 30 years had claimed Dr. G. G. Sedgewick as its own. Since his arrival at the University of British Columbia in 1918 he had made himself a part of British Columbia's academic life, and although his recent retirement had taken him from the more active phase of university work, his death last Sunday has created a void that will not easily be filled.

To the hundreds of students who through the years crowded his classes at U.B.C., to the many Victorians who heard him year after year in University Extension lectures here, to the thousands of residents of the province who became acquainted with him on the speakers' platform or over the radio—his book reviews for the C.B.C. will long be remembered—Dr. Sedgewick was more than a professor, more than a "speaker-for-the-evening," more than a literary authority. His character and personality were of the fabric from which legends are made. His witticisms, his erudition, his class-room "style," his Puckish humor, his unpredictability—all these were woven into the legend known to thousands of graduates as "Doc Sedgewick." The man became an institution. He had an inestimable influence on the Department of English which he headed for so long, and it extended to the whole University, to be felt even after his departure. He could not be duplicated; he cannot be replaced.

GRATIFYING REPORT

ANYONE WATCHING THE HIGHWAYS leading out of Victoria during the weekend might have wondered, with some justification, if any motorist in the entire district had left his or her car in the garage. The amount of traffic to resorts and to holiday events on the Island was excessive. For that reason it is all the more gratifying to learn that the three-day period passed without serious accident.

Conceivably motorists were more cautious on Labor Day than is their custom because they recognized the increased hazards posed by the volume of cars on the road. If that was the case, the lesson is obvious. Provided people keep their wits about them, provided they do not daydream at the wheel, the number of tragedies that occur annually on our highways can be substantially reduced. It is still necessary, however, to remind drivers that there may be hazards on the road at any time, not only during periods of peak traffic. The old injunction to drive as if the person in charge of the oncoming car is a maniac is still good advice.

EXIT WEEPING

THE ENGLISH CHANNEL SWIMMING bid of Shirley May France has ended in failure and tears. The young Somerset, Mass., girl made a plucky attempt and protested violently when she was forcibly taken from the water less than six miles from the finish. Other aspirants, it should be remembered, have come closer than that before being forced to abandon the gruelling test. Shirley tried and showed courage to the last. But the unfortunate element in her effort lies in the fact that she had been given such a build-up that anything but success seems inglorious. Our sympathies go out to the young lady who must now know that the highest wave has the deepest trough. Her failure, however, does serve to emphasize the achievement of the young Yorkshire schoolboy, Philip Mickman, that relatively "slow boat to Dover," for whom the bands played after, not before, the event.

According to Ottawa information, Canadian hens are "laying" down on the job. Which may be in accord with current psychology. In the light of present prices, despite the recent drop, they too are working less for more. And we've had our suspicions about those Rhode Island Reds.

Walter Lippmann

THE WHITE PAPER: MR. ACHESON'S CONCLUSION

THE WHITE PAPER on China deals with a diplomatic disaster—perhaps the greatest that the United States has ever suffered. But after working his way through the thousand pages the reader is left to wonder what the State Department has learned from the disaster it foresaw and could not avert.

The record shows that Chiang's defeat was regarded as probable five years ago, that it was deemed most probable by Gen. Marshall when he returned from China to become Secretary of State more than two years ago, and that it was judged to be certain when he rejected the recommendations made by Gen. Wedemeyer in his report to the President on Sept. 19, 1947.

THERE has been ample time, therefore, to do what Ambassador Jessup and his colleagues have just been appointed to do—ample time to think about how to protect American interests and to salvage American influence as Nationalist China was losing the civil war and when the Communists had, as foreseen, won the civil war.

But the White Paper contains no evidence that the mountain, which should have been in labor for two years, has brought forth even a mouse. The big fat book does not even ask, much less does it answer, the crucial questions. Why, at the zenith of American power and prestige was the American influence in China paralyzed and why did the American interest founder so quickly, and why is the nation which the United States has championed turned against her, and why as the United States has multiplied her enemies has she also lost her friends?

THESE are the questions on which private citizens might well reserve judgment until those who are responsible for American foreign policy have spoken. But though the White Paper contains evidence for judging them, the Secretary of State does not discuss them. In fact Mr. Acheson takes the view that really there is no point in asking whether American policy was sound. Since the inevitable happened unavoidably in China, what America did or might have done, did not and could not have made any difference in the outcome. She did the best she could. Had she done more, had she done less, had she acted differently or not at all, she would still be where she is today.

THE UNFORTUNATE but inescapable fact is that the ominous result of the civil war in China was beyond the control of the government of the United States. Nothing that this country did or could have done within the reasonable limits of its capabilities could have changed the result; nothing that was left undone by this country has contributed to it. This is tantamount to saying that there was no such thing as a sound or an unsound, a right or a wrong, a wise or an unwise, policy towards the Chinese civil war. All policies were equally futile. For since Chiang's defeat was inevitable, the whole conduct of American policy in China was irrelevant.

BUT that is to beg the question. The United States followed a policy in which American interests in China, American prestige in China, large quantities of American arms and of American money, were lost in what the State Department had long since decided was the inevitable defeat of Chiang. Mr. Acheson is entitled to argue that the outcome of the Chinese civil war was inevitable and beyond American control. But the Secretary of State cannot contend that the United States' own actions and commitments in relation to that civil war were also inevitable and beyond control. The United States might just as well argue that having bet on a spavined horse which she knew would fall down, no question need be asked about the wisdom of the bet. She must think only about the horse and that the horse did in fact fall down as predicted, and that it would have fallen down even if the United States had tripped her bet.

ADVOCACY of that kind may dispose of Congressmen Judd. But it does not dispose of the main question which is how and why the United States got into a position where she felt she had to bet her whole position in China on a government which she regarded as hopelessly incompetent to protect the American position or to achieve the stabilization of China and a settlement in the Far East.

The United States can, I think, best come to grips with that question by examining the Wedemeyer report and Secretary Marshall's decision to reject it. For that was the crucial decision. There all the main issues came to a head and Secretary Marshall was face to face with the predicament in which American China policy had ended. He found that though the United States could not help Chiang to survive, she had nevertheless to remain entangled in his inevitable defeat. By the summer of 1947, therefore, she had lost her diplomatic independence. The United States was trapped, unable to work with Chiang and unable to work without him.

THERE is a story here which needs to be pieced together. It is the story of how American championship of China became a fatal entanglement as the choices open to the United States were narrowed down to a point where she was damned if she did and damned if she didn't.

GLOBAL SURVEY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

BRITAIN'S experiment with Socialist government is headed for a stormy showdown in the next general election.

The Labor (Socialist) government which came to power in July of '45 would have a normal life of five years—that is, until next summer. However, Britain's economic crisis has reached such a grave pass that it's anybody's guess whether it will get better or worse. This confronts the Socialist leaders with the problem of whether to hang on until the end of their term—in hope of improvement—or to force an early election on the chance that things are better now than they will be later.

Much will depend, it strikes me, on the outcome of the British-Canadian-American conference opening in Washington today to seek a solution of John Bull's predicament.

Britain's Socialist leaders are under no delusions about the political dangers ahead. Both Sir William Lawther, president of the great British Trades Union Congress, and James Griffiths, chairman of the Labor Party, warned the annual conference of the T.U.C. Monday that Socialism is facing a tough fight.

LABOR TROUBLES

This blunt warning was aimed at wildcat strikes which have been complicating the economic crisis. Both leaders said Labor might lose the next general election if it didn't stay on the job.

So Britain's Socialist leaders are worried—and for good reason. Economic difficulties, which they inherited as the result of the war, have gone from bad to worse.

Inevitably there has arisen the searching question of whether the situation has worsened because of Socialist policies or whether the same misfortune would have bogged the Conservatives if they had been continued in power.

The burden of proof will rest with the Socialists, and it won't be easy to produce the evidence. They can claim with perfect right that they inherited serious economic difficulties, but the next question is tough:

"Have the Socialist policies, during more than four years of government, improved the economic situation any?"

The answer obviously is in the negative. This puts it up to the party to prove to the public that Conservative policies would have met a similar fate.

SHOULD BE ENCOURAGED

Ottawa Citizen.

Canada has recorded its efforts in war in only one major film, "Let Us Forget," produced in 1934. The film is scarcely remembered today. Since then, however, the Canadian film industry, both government and private, has made notable progress. The National Film Board, whose documentaries have won merited applause in many countries, is quite capable of producing a full-length war film telling the story of the recent conflict not only in Canadian, but in human terms. It should be encouraged to do so.

POLLUTING AN ASSET

Financial Post.

The annual threat of pollyme-litis, combined with the outburst of some mysterious and tragic forms of dysentery, has stirred up a great many Canadians, and parents particularly, to the problem of water-pollution. It is a sad commentary on the happy-go-lucky carelessness which seems to be endemic in human communities that the plentiful water which is one of Canada's greatest assets should have been allowed to become one of our greatest dangers.

Most Canadian children learn young to swim, to manage boats and to make the most of their natural water playgrounds. Their fathers have not yet learned to take proper precautions to save those same waters from pollution.

THE FINNS ARE TOUGH

Montreal Star.

In a situation like Finland's, it takes a fair amount of courage to make the sort of announcement the Government has just issued, that Communist exploitation of labor disputes is to be crushed. This is a declaration of independence sure to be distasteful to her domineering neighbor Russia, a transparent rebuke of interference in the affairs of a country scrupulously living up to onerous obligations. Authorities considerably farther away from the threat of retaliation have not always shown the same firmness.

BRENTWOOD WATER

Re your editorial on water for Brentwood-Saanich. I did own some cottages out there and I sunk two wells, one 19 feet the other 22 feet. They have always had around 10 feet of absolutely pure water by government tests.

Why on earth the Saanich Council wish to pipe the bathing pool of Elk Lake, with its cesspools and septic tank overflow for drinking purposes to Brentwood I cannot understand, especially, as a deep well or better still, an artesian supply could supply at least 10,000 inhabitants. One small motor would raise sufficient water for a dozen cottages at very small cost.

I am not against the Elk Lake supply for farms, but for drinking purposes, absolutely no. In Victoria the chlorine has caused a lot of stomach trouble, in spite of what has been stated to the contrary. I have tested out a bed of pansies with both rain and chlorinated water, and was very surprised at the final results.

A SUGGESTION

The Traffic Safety Campaign, although very commendable in principle, nevertheless could be improved upon. The following suggestions are submitted with a view to making stronger attack upon the "indolent" and "nuisance" drivers; and, more important still, to continue an effective campaign long after the present publicity has faded out in public memory.

As a good citizen, it would be entirely in order for an individual witnessing an infraction of the traffic law, to report the offence, license number, time and place of the incident by letter to the Safety Council, duly witnessed. The Safety Council and/or Police would then advise the offender informing him that although there was no policeman present, and although he will not be prosecuted, he nevertheless was seen and reported. In the event of a wrong license number being turned in, or other error in reporting, upon supplying reasonable evidence of mistaken identity or other assurance that an error was made, the report would be canceled. This would not happen very often, I believe.

Such reports could be kept on file and be available to the City Prosecutor, Police and Magistrate as a guide when such an individual was charged with an infraction or in an accident.

To aid in the above proposal, self-addressed, guaranteed postage prepaid forms, or postcards, could be made available at all service stations. Cost to be covered by the dollar now being charged by the Safety Council. Names of persons reporting infractions would, of necessity, be kept strictly confidential.

Security Not The Only Goal

Canadian Chamber of Commerce News Letter.

THE TEST OF any political, economic or social system is what it does for the ordinary man or woman. When this test is applied to Canada, there are few indeed, with any knowledge of the facts at all, who will deny that Canada stands high on the list of those countries whose citizens share in the benefits of a highly developed civilization.

RESULTS COMPARED

From time to time figures are released showing that a Canadian worker can, in a fraction of the time required by a Russian worker, earn sufficient money to provide the necessities for himself and his family, and can then go on to work for luxuries and amenities of life which are impossible of attainment for the average citizen in the U.S.S.R.

This, however, is a purely materialistic comparison. It does not take into account the wider differences which obtain in the area of personal freedom.

Despite these facts, there are those Canadians who feel called upon to apologize for their own country, their own institutions, and their own people. In the field of social services it has been said that certain important welfare services are not yet well developed and others are not yet available at all.

In fact, it is sometimes intimated that Canada has not yet caught up with the most progressive nations in this regard.

We are somewhat chagrined to learn that Canada is not one of the "most progressive nations," but it is our belief that Canada and Canadians need not be apologetic about the degree of social services provided to our citizens.

INITIATIVE DESTROYED

In certain parts of the world there has been an attempt to substitute social services and social welfare for opportunity. In fact, there is now growing across the globe a glorification of and a demand for the Welfare State. Social security in many quarters has become an end in itself, and to the extent that that attitude of mind is developed, to that same extent is the vigor, initiative and enterprise of the individual destroyed.

In a statement of policy approved at the Chamber's Annual Meeting last fall, the Chamber declared: "We must beware of looking to the state to provide security to the extent that the incentive to provide for himself is taken from the individual. . . . The Chamber recognizes the responsibility of the individual in a free society to exert every effort to solve his own economic problems and deplores the growing tendency to look to government for help in every difficulty."

It is suggested that a young, vigorous and undeveloped country like Canada cannot and will not achieve its destiny if it is populated by those who prefer to lean on a benevolent and paternalistic government, rather than to exercise their minds and muscles in an atmosphere of freedom and opportunity.

JUST BEGINNING

Canada should strive to impress upon its immigrants and its citizens the fact that we are just at the beginning of our greatness, and that what we need are pioneers prepared to work and exercise all their skills and abilities in the sure hope of reward.

Making Headway

Toronto Star.

President Truman is trying hard to keep his election promises to the U.S. people. In the fields of labor legislation and civil rights, his "Fair Deal" program has suffered defeat at the hands of a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats which is sometimes able to control Congress. But in the social welfare field he has lately achieved considerable success.

The most clear-cut triumph was the passage of a federal housing bill over the opposition of the well-financed real estate lobby. This measure will provide funds for an extensive program of housing for low-income families, slum clearance, and rural housing improvement.

between this country, the United Kingdom and the United States.

Canada's export business to the sterling area, worth $1,000,000,000 in 1948, is endangered by the fact that Great Britain and her sterling associates are short on trade balance about $1,500,000,000 to pay for this year's purchases in Canada and the U.S.

The simple answer would seem to be that the sterling area must sell more goods to the U.S. and Canada to earn the dollars necessary to pay for what it buys on this continent.

It is quite probable that, simple as this solution appears, it will be the main subject of discussions in Washington.

Some authorities on international trade say this simple solution to the current problem may not be impossible.

It depends largely upon the ability of U.S. delegates to sell their people the idea of easing tariff restrictions, even though it hurts certain individual interests, and buying more, imported goods.

The U.S. consumed $130,000,000 worth of retail goods in 1948.

Of that amount less than $1,500,000,000 came from the sterling area. That is about $10 per capita per year.

Canadians, in the same period, bought from the sterling area about $40 worth of goods per person.

$25 PER CAPITA

If the United States increased its purchases from the sterling area to $25 per capita per year, and sterling area purchases from North America remained at or about the current level, the dollar shortage would be ended for the U.K. and Canada.

It is known that Canada's negotiators look upon an even balance of trade between the three trading groups as the only real answer.

It is known, too, that they look upon any breakup that will split the western world into sterling and dollar blocs as a tragedy to be avoided at all costs.

Eight hundred persons filled the Central Presbyterian Church, where the funeral service was held. Another 700 persons stood outside.

Rev. J. B. Skene, who officiated at the church service, lauded Senator Mackenzie as a man who "served his generation with outstanding capacity and courage."

B.C. Department Urges Support Of National Immunization Week

The provincial health department, urging support of Canada's seventh national immunization week Sept. 11 to 17, said today that largely because of B.C.'s year-round immunization program there has been marked decline in preventable disease here.

The department said that the number of notifiable diseases reported in 1948 was the lowest since 1940.

Purpose of the national immunization week campaign is to remind the public of the importance of immunization, which, the department said, is the best method of preventing disease since a person who is immune will not have the disease even though he should get the germs.

Despite the decrease in the number of notifiable disease cases last year, five persons died in B.C. of diphtheria and three B.C. children lost their lives to whooping cough, both preventable diseases.

"These figures are small in comparison to those for all Canada, but these eight people did not have to die," said the department, adding that this year to date there have been 62 cases of whooping cough, 10 of diphtheria and typhoid fever and three of tetanus in B.C. Last year there were 285 cases of whooping cough, 35 of diphtheria, and three of tetanus. "The tragedy of it is that these illnesses could have been prevented."

The department also noted that before the days of vaccination smallpox caused at least one-tenth of all deaths. Largely because of the vaccination program there has been no case of smallpox in B.C. since 1939.

In order to continue this record it is essential that children be vaccinated early, said the department.

Specific preventive measures have almost wiped out diphtheria and tetanus along with smallpox. A vaccine now in general use is helping to protect children from whooping cough.

TRIPLE SHOT

The department said that children may be immunized for all three of these diseases, separately or at one time, with a triple toxoid which combines protection against diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough. Clinics for these immunizations are available through local health services the year around in almost every centre in the province.

While concentration seems to have been centred on having children immunized, experience with recent epidemics has shown a high incidence of certain communicable diseases amongst young adults, the department said. This is explained on the basis that their childhood immunity status has been allowed to fall below protective levels.

"This emphasizes the necessity of obtaining periodic booster doses at recommended intervals to maintain a high level of immunity throughout life," said the department.

Air Mail Service To Tokyo, Hongkong Starting Sept. 19

Regular air mail service between B.C. and Hongkong, via Tokyo, Japan, will be inaugurated on or about Sept. 19, the Post Office Department announces.

It is planned to operate one flight weekly in each direction, leaving Vancouver five minutes after midnight on Mondays, and arriving in Tokyo at 9:20 on the evenings of Tuesday.

The plane will leave Hongkong from Tokyo one hour and a half later to arrive at its destination on Wednesdays at 7 in the morning.

The return flight leaves Hongkong on Thursdays at 2:30 in the afternoon, arriving at Tokyo on Fridays at 2 in the morning, leaving one hour and a half later for Vancouver, where it will arrive at 8 on Friday mornings.

The Post Office will mark the inauguration of the service by two special cachets which, will be applied to first day covers on the initial trip between Vancouver and Hongkong. The cachets will be "Vancouver to Tokyo, Japan," and "Vancouver to Hongkong."

Covers to receive these cachets should be fully and correctly addressed and endorsed "first flight," followed by the name of the cachet desired written in the upper left-hand corner. Reserve a space two inches by three inches in the lower left-hand corner for the cachet impression.

The air mail rate applicable is 25 cents each quarter ounce, Vancouver to Tokyo or Vancouver to Hongkong. A service charge of 10 cents, in addition to cost of postage, is assessed for handling each cover.

Holiday Week-end Deaths In U.S. 550

CHICAGO (AP)—A record total of 550 persons met death in accidents in the United States during the Labor Day week-end.

The final tally of the three-day holiday death toll showed 410 persons killed in traffic accidents, 53 drowned, and 87 lives ended violently in miscellaneous mishaps, including fire, plane crashes and falls.

The deaths occurred throughout the country at a rate of about one each 8½ minutes during the 78-hour period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday, local time.

Both the over-all toll and that resulting from traffic crashes set gruesome records for the Labor Day holiday, eclipsing the previous high rolled up in 1937. That year 428 persons were killed in all accidents, 302 of them in traffic.

Delayed Flight

BERLIN—A breeder of carrier pigeons, cleaning his dovecote at Forst, in the Soviet zone, was surprised to discover a newly-arrived and plainly-exhausted pigeon among his own breed.

A message removed from under the pigeon's wing was a desperate call for help from an isolated German infantry battalion in southern Italy which reported itself "cut off by the enemy and near to starvation."

Where the pigeon spent the years between 1943, when the message was dispatched, and the date it arrived remains a mystery.

Car Brakes Aflame Start Forest Fire

COURTENAY (CP)—Every thing happens to Herbert Smith. A driver for Van West Logging, Smith was jockeying a gravel truck down a steep mountain road when the engine and air brakes failed. He pulled the emergency brake, slowing the truck momentarily. Then the emergency caught fire. Smith rode it for another mile and a half. Then the steering gear failed and the vehicle ploughed into the woods, sending Smith to hospital with head wounds, bruises and a broken tooth. Crews are still fighting the "forest fire" started by Smith's flaming brakes.

CBC Asks Parliament To Give It Control Of Television

OTTAWA (CP)—The CBC board of governors in a brief submitted Tuesday to the Royal Commission on Arts and Science set down a four-point television program. The proposals are:

"1. In the national interest there must be a development of television by the National Broadcasting System (CBC).
"2. A television receiver set license fee must be established adequate, over a period, to support television operations in the public interest. (No figure was mentioned.)
"3. The necessary loans have to be made available to the national system for capital costs and initial development.
"4. If private interests are to be licensed to establish a television station, the national system must maintain the needed powers of co-ordinating use of television air channels in the general interest of the public and of developing a nationwide Canadian service."

ON PUBLIC FUNDS
The interests of the nation could only be served if television was developed by the CBC supported by public funds.

"On the basis of straight private commercial operation television would inevitably be primarily a means of projecting non-Canadian material into Canadian homes," said the board. "All the economic pressures which tend to push commercial sound broadcasting operations in this direction would be intensified in television."

"Since television costs are so much higher and financial commitments necessarily so much greater, tendencies would be all the stronger for private commercial television concerns to form connections to bring in program material from south of the border."

"Television development under the national system is the only means of providing for the planned use of television channels not just to provide a hard-hitting sales medium, but to build a greater medium of mass communication, used in the public interest."

"It also provides the only sure basis for developing the distribution of television programs east and west across Canada, toward the linking together of the country by sight as well as by sound."

IN MONTREAL, TORONTO
The brief mentioned the government's interim policy on television announced last spring. Under it the CBC would be given the green light to go ahead with television station in Montreal and Toronto. Private interests would be given one frequency in each of the two centres. In other areas, frequencies would be given to other private applicants, where suitable.

The interim policy also said Parliament would be asked to grant a $4,000,000 loan to the CBC to cover initial television costs. This is expected to be brought before the session beginning Sept. 15.

The board said such loans would be needed as it was only fair that those with receiving sets pay the license fee.

Hazel Bros. Construction Co. Ltd., North Vancouver, this afternoon submitted the lowest tender to the provincial works department for the construction of the substructure for the Pallot Bridge No. 1, Lougheed Highway, one mile east of Pitt River Bridge.

The firm tendered to build the two concrete abutments for the steel span for $11,682.

Six other firms bid for the contract, but three of the bids were rejected because they were not in order.

CALGARY (CP)—Harry A. Irving of Fort William, Ont., was elected governor of the Kiwanis Western District at the final business session of the organization here Tuesday. More than 500 delegates from northern Ontario and the three prairie provinces ended their two-day meeting with a special trip to Banff, Alta.

Woman Mayor Who Cut Own Salary Likes Job But Finds Life Busy

A tall, motherly woman, with a sense of humor, a head for business and a penchant for being elected mayor of the growing city of Prince Rupert, is in town today, attending the opening session of the Union of B.C. Municipalities' convention at the Empress Hotel.

She is Mrs. Nora Arnold, named Woman of the Year in Canada in 1948 and a mayor who when she took office, reduced her salary from $2,000 to $1,200 a year.

In the present day of increasing costs in every department, her action was needless to say, popular with the electorate. Do they have any prejudice against a woman mayor?

"I have never once heard any kind of objection and people come to the mayor's office with every kind of problem from domestic to the state of the city," Her Worship smiled.

BUILD NEW PLANT

She tells you proudly of the celanese plant being built about seven miles out of Prince Rupert, which when in operation will provide the city with an all-year-round industry. There are 800 men working on the project at the present time.

"We are very happy to see it come in, for the fishing industry is seasonal. Practically, we've lived on fish. Mind you," she added quickly, "none of us are belittling it."

"It's the biggest halibut fishing port in the world."

While Mayor Arnold is enthusiastic about the job she has held for three years now, like many another mayor, she finds the calls on her time to open events, give official greetings and make speeches, pressing in the extreme.

ON EXECUTIVE

Only woman to serve on the executive of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, Mayor Arnold is conversant with every facet of municipal life and has the history of the financial ups and downs of her own city at her fingertips.

The city was incorporated in 1910 and now has a population of 10,000 compared with 6,500 before the war.

"There was no mayor or alderman for nearly 10 years for the city went bankrupt in 1933," she said.

Serving as an alderman for four years, she said her idea in entering municipal politics was to try to help put Prince Rupert back on its civic feet.

A teacher and then businesswoman after her husband died suddenly in 1936, Mayor Arnold has had a good deal of interests outside the home. She took over her husband's real estate and insurance business and still operates it, along with her mayoral duties.

She recalls the hectic war days when, in addition to shipyard workers pouring into the city there were some 30,000 servicemen stationed in the vicinity. Now the council is endeavoring to improve roads by blacktopping but have a big job ahead of them with so many services worn out and needing replacement.

Getting along with an aldermanic council of eight men has proved no problem to Her Worship, but whether she will run for a third term as mayor is still a matter of conjecture.

The mayor whom everyone calls by "her first name," is making no statement on that score.

Trustees To Meet At Qualicum Beach

Mrs. Ernest Evans, first vice-president of the British Columbia Parent-Teacher Federation, has been appointed delegate to the B.C. Trustees' Association annual convention at Qualicum Beach Hotel, Sept. 12 to 14.

The Qualicum Beach Parent-Teacher Association will entertain the trustees' association at a tea at the Qualicum Beach Hotel and Mrs. Evans will receive and welcome the guests.

Parish Bazaar — Plans were completed for a parish bazaar to be held in the parish hall at a meeting of the Queen of Peace Catholic Women's League, at the home of Mrs. R. White, Esquimalt Road. The bazaar will open at 2:30 and homecooking, fancy work, candy and vegetable stalls will be featured. Afternoon tea will be served and there will be bingo in the evening. Plays Critics Of Britain In Fighting Speech Here

More than 200 members of the Women's Canadian Club heard a fighting speech replete with blunt statement and flat denunciation when Robert T. MacKenzie, University of British Columbia graduate and native Vancouverite, took them on a tour of "The British Crisis" in Empress Hotel Tuesday afternoon.

He opened his barrage with the charges of laziness, squandering, high cost of goods exported and strikes, which he has heard and read leveled at the British in Canada and the United States. He took the critics to task in detail.

Certain factions of the British press are telling the world Britain is starving, where in point of fact almost the same amount of food is being consumed only in more and different quarters, he said.

"There is no malnutrition in Britain today," he said referring to health statistics, adding that many of the stories arise simply because full employment in Britain has made it possible for everybody to compete for all the food they want.

He concluded with discussion of the record of the present British Labor government in its many by-elections, the British health insurance and social welfare schemes, and the reasons he feels some press organizations and people in various countries have for touting abroad the idea that Britain is in her twilight years, decadent, never to rise.

"It's the people with the long purse, who do the most complaining," he remarked of criticism of the British government.

He said he holds no brief for the government but the statements that a socialist tyranny exists in Britain and the people are just waiting to get rid of it, are completely untrue.

"The program of the opposition is so like that of the present government, that change in government will not do away with any of the present schemes," he said. "The opposition state they will improve the schemes and both parties are committed to a program of social welfare."

He felt the people must

Dr. and Mrs. Jacques Metford, with their baby son, John, left Vancouver by motor at the beginning of September, enroute to London, Ont., where Dr. Metford has been appointed to Department of Romance Languages at University of Western Ontario. Mrs. Metford is the former Dr. Deborah Aish.

A miscellaneous surprise shower was given recently in honor of Miss Dorothy Stout, bride-elect of this month, by Miss Pat. Wastell and Mrs. Doreen Ferris, at the home of the latter, on Rowland Avenue. A corsage bouquet of carnations was given to the honor guest. Mothers of the bridal pair, Mrs. O. Stout and Mrs. A. Pearce, also received corsage bouquets. Gifts were concealed in a pink swan. Other guests were Mesdames A. Hunter, B. Hunter, E. McDowell, J. Lambie, M. Stark, M. Emery, B. Johannsen and C. Ferris.

Tours and several social affairs have been planned for wives of members of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities who opened their convention at the Empress Hotel today. Following a tour of Victoria suburbs this afternoon, they will be entertained at tea in the Oak Bay Beach Hotel. A tour of a department store Thursday will be followed by tea and then a dinner in the Empress Hotel. Friday afternoon the wives will accompany their husbands on a tour of the municipalities which will conclude with a cocktail party in the Empress Hotel lower lounge.

A miscellaneous shower was held by girls of the Public Works Accounts, at the home of Mrs. D. L. Paterson Jr., 3340 Doncaster Drive. The occasion was to honor the former Miss Margaret Chiko, who became the bride of Mr. Terrance O'Neill Tuesday evening. Gifts were presented in a basket designed as a wishing well. Games were enjoyed, Mrs. P. Gage and Miss R. Pyce being winners. Others present were Mesdames D. Paterson, J. Cox, H. Campbell, E. Mackey, F. Boyd, and Misses Rose Tucker, Roseann Renfrew, Jean Brown, Elener Paddon, Joyce Currie, Jean Grant, Beth McCurdie, Dorothy Coleman, Caroline Lynas, Gladys Perry, Gladys Wallace and Ronnie Neary.

In attendance were Mr. Arthur Sainsbury, sister of the groom from Loran Station on the West Coast, and Miss Carole Lehman of Bremerton, Wash. The former wore a pearl grey suit, accessories in navy blue and white. Mr. Sainsbury wore white accessories with her cocoa brown suit. Both carried bouquets of peach gladioli.

DEVONSHIRE TRIFLE

Place half a pound of macaroons or slices of pound cake on the bottom of a large glass bowl. Pour white wine over the macaroons or pound cake to dissolve it. Make a rich custard flavored with vanilla or almond extract. When the custard is cool pour over the cake. Then add a layer of jam, jelly or marmalade. Shape it into a pyramid and decorate with dabs of jelly, nuts, or maraschino cherries. You can be original and decorate the trifle as the occasion demands. I have seen it served with a small bunch of fresh flowers, sprigs of holly and even tiny silver bells.

Mexican Honeymoon
For City Doctor
And Nurse Bride

Dr. Carron Ker Jameson and his bride, the former Sarah Elizabeth "Lee" Bayard, R.N., are now en route to California and Mexico for a three-week wedding trip following their marriage in Metropolitan United Church, Saturday morning.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Mary Campbell Bayard, 520 Cook Street, chose a silk crepe frock in misted gold with matching hat and shoes for her marriage to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carron Brown Jameson, 1885 St. Ann Street.

Given in marriage by Joseph Chaplin, the bride, who has been on the staff of the Victorian Order of Nurses, carried an arm bouquet of Johanna-Hill roses, with pearls as sole ornament.

A gown of turquoise and gold silk crepe with matching taffeta hat was worn by Miss Mildred Williams, R.N., bridesmaid. Her flowers were Spray chrysanthemums.

Dr. A. E. Whitehouse read the nuptial service. Chris McRae supported the groom while Ernest Hackett was usher.

The gardens of the Wishbone Grill were the scene of the pretty early fall reception, with luncheon served in the dining room. The bride's table was decorated with summer flowers and centred by the traditional wedding cake.

Mr. Chaplin proposed the toast to the bride.

For travelling, the new Mrs. Jameson wore a barthea suit in palomino shade with dark brown accessories and befeathered hat. Her corsage bouquet was of white heather and roses. The young couple will make their home at 2954 Westdowne Road.

Plan Competition

Pictured above is one of this city's sightless gardeners, using garden tools especially adapted for blind persons. The annual competition and sale of vegetables grown by the blind citizens will be held Saturday at the Public Market, and will include a home-cooking stall.

A cup and prizes have been donated by the Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. W. G. Darling and Mrs. Nova Graham will act as judges.

Mrs. K. L. Patton is convener, and will be assisted by Mrs. R. B. Horton and Mrs. H. Weldon. Proceeds of the sale will be donated to charity.

Name Delegate - Mrs. W. Peden, president, was named official delegate to South Vancouver Island District Women's Institute conference to be held at Shawnigan Lake, Sept. 21, with Mrs. E. Fanthorpe to act as institute delegate, at a meeting of the Victoria Women's Institute. Resignation of Mrs. D. Leask, treasurer, was accepted with regret and Mrs. A. Thomas elected by acclamation. Mrs. S. C. Johns gave the financial report. Plans are being completed for a bazaar, Nov. 4. News was received of the W.I. Memorial Fund scholarship being presented to Miss Laura Stowell of Oliver, B.C., a second year university student in home economics.

Mrs. Sexton will be assisted in receiving guests by her daughters, Mrs. W. Chard and Mrs. F. Stenton, and Mrs. E. Sexton, her daughter-in-law. A son, Leonard, is expected to arrive from England to join his parents. The anniversary couple have seven grandchildren.

T. O'Neill, Margaret Chiko
On Cariboo Wedding Trip

The Flying "U" Guest Ranch in the Cariboo is the honeymoon destination of the former Margaret Alice Chiko and Terrance O'Neill who were married Tuesday at 8 in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Chiko, 1002 Fairfield Road, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Terrance Clifford O'Neill, 2620 Wark Street.

For the ceremony, performed by Rev. J. L. W. McLean, the bride wore a white satin gown. Yoked in fine net, the fitted bodice was buttoned at the back and featured lily point sleeves; a white satin bow created a bustle effect on the full skirt cascading into a long train.

Her fingertip veil was crowned with a satin coronet inlaid with pearls and beads, and the bride carried a white prayer book mounted with a mauve orchid.

Miss Ruth Price, maid of honor, and Miss Cynthia Hanchard, cousin of the bride, as bridesmaids, wore bouffant-skirted frocks in mauve and pink. Both had shoulder-veils and carried crescent bouquets of pink and mauve gladioli.

Reginald S. Meeres was best man. Seating guests were Aubrey A. Nobbs, and Peter W. Chiko, brother of the bride.

Arthur Stringer sang "Because" while the newlyweds signed the register.

Guests were welcomed later in Terry's Rose Room.

A three-tier wedding cake, flanked with pink candles and pink and mauve sweet peas, centred the table. I. Hanchard proposed the toast.

Mrs. O'Neill changed to a gold suit with dark green accessories.

Limerick Lace Wedding Veil
Enhances Ivory Satin Gown

St. John's Church was the scene of a pretty ceremony Saturday at 8 when Rev. Douglas Kendell officiated at the marriage of Elizabeth Hazel Livingstone-Learmonth to Robert Donald Mackay.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of old ivory satin, in classical off-shoulder style, and trimmed with self buttons up the back and on the long pointed sleeves.

She wore her great-grandmother's wedding veil of Limerick lace, and carried a bouquet of roses and stocks.

Attendants were Miss Daphne Gill and the bridegroom's niece, Mary Ann Mackay.

The bride's train was carried by her little niece, Janet Sinclair, in a dress similar to the bridesmaids', and her nephew, Philip Mowat, in cream silk blouse, and blue short trousers.

Best man was David Grieve, and ushers were Edward Grunder and Fred G. Timms. Frederick Chubb was at the organ.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride, where the bride and groom were assisted in receiving guests by their parents.

Mrs. Livingstone-Learmonth wore a grey check taffeta frock and black hat. Mrs. Mackay chose a navy blue figured silk dress with matching accessories.

The three-tier wedding cake was topped with an arch and silver bell. Toast was proposed by J. Roberts.

Following the reception, the couple left for a honeymoon at Carmel, Calif., the bride wearing a smoke blue suit, cinnamon shortie coat and matching accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Mackay will make their home in Vancouver.

Says Country's Divorce Laws In Need Of Revision

Divorce laws in effect in Canada at the present time have brought about a scandalous situation which is weakening the two standard pillars of civilization—the home and law—Rev. Lewis McLean, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, said in an address to members of the Victoria Kiwanis Club Tuesday.

In 1948, there were 1,683 divorces in British Columbia. Of this total, 586 were filed as a result of husbands charging adultery and the other 1,097 from wives pressing the same charges, Mr. McLean said.

If anyone stopped to inquire if these cases were all honestly due to adultery they would find that in most cases they were not, the speaker said. Innocent people have been branded adulterers due to the present law, which specified adultery was the only means of procuring a divorce.

Britain To Buy Million Tons Of Russian Grain

LONDON (AP)—The Board of Trade announced Tuesday night that an agreement with Russia for 1,000,000 long tons of grain now is in force. A long ton is 2,240 pounds.

The first shipment of barley, corn and oats are expected here soon. The grain deal was made some months ago, the contract going into force Sept. 1, the announcement said.

Diplomatic officials reported last week that snags had developed in the negotiations in Moscow on a general pact because of Russian demands for guaranteed delivery dates, certain kinds of goods blacklisted to Communist countries because of their potential war value, and lower prices on British goods.

Russia wants British machinery, electrical equipment, ships, steel rails and transport equipment. She is ready to sell timber, potash, chemicals, canned fish and wheat.

Dutch Painter To Be Canadian

TORONTO (CP)—The only pupil of a Dutch painter who hoaxed the art world has reached the Toronto area as an immigrant.

He is Albert Qudandag, 35, an Amsterdam artist who studied under the late Hans Van Meegeren. By forging paintings of Vermeer and other old masters, Van Meegeren outsmarted critics until he was sent to jail. Van Meegeren died in 1947.

Qudandag told an interviewer Tuesday that one reason he had left the Netherlands was that critics, remembering his association with Van Meegeren, were "cold" towards him.

"I am well schooled in Van Meegeren's technique," he said. "I could do anything that he did—except imitate Vermeers. I could do that, too, but they also have jails in Canada. Besides, I don't want to."

Manitoba, Ontario To Discuss Power

WINNIPEG (CP)—Possibility of augmenting the hydro-electric power supply in Manitoba through maximum conservation of water in the Winnipeg River will be studied at a conference of Ontario and Manitoba power officials here in the latter part of this month.

Premier D. L. Campbell of Manitoba told a meeting of the joint city-provincial water power committee Tuesday that Robert Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Hydro Commission, and several engineers will attend the conference. They will confer with Manitoba power officials on possible Ontario-Manitoba agreements for maximum conservation on the Winnipeg River, particularly during the present power shortage.

The committee meeting also discussed the recommendation of Dr. T. H. Hogg of Winnipeg in his report to the provincial government that all hydro-electric power plants in the province be consolidated in a single provincial agency, but committee spokesmen said it was doubtful whether any decision would be reached for several months.

Air Council Seeking To Reduce Flying Accidents

Ways and means of reducing aircraft accidents in the province were discussed at the annual convention of the British Columbia Aviation Council which opened at the Empress Hotel Tuesday. More than 60 delegates representing cities and municipal councils, flying clubs and schools and boards of trade took part in the discussion.

It was suggested that the Department of Transport circularize all causes of accidents to aircraft pilots so as to avoid a recurrence of a mishap due to the same causes. At the same time a suggestion was put forward for the publicizing of all infractions of air regulations by pilots.

The delegates also discussed a resolution on airport zoning to be presented to the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention here this week. The resolution calls for regulations controlling the height of any building, chimney, pole, tower or other structure on land adjacent to an airport.

The convention was opened by Lt.-Col. J. H. Horn, Kelowna. Ald. Frank Mulliner welcomed the delegates to Victoria on behalf of Mayor Percy George.

Substantial progress in advancing the interests of aviation in British Columbia was made this year, B. J. Gadsden said in his annual report. He predicted that the coming year would be an active one for the president and directors and further definite accomplishments were anticipated.

Members were also notified that the aviation branch of the provincial department of trade and industry had made available to the council a supply of air navigation maps. Stocks of these had been placed at the airports of Vancouver, Victoria and Chilliwack for free distribution to bona fide air tourists entering Canada.

The Chilliwack Flying Club was awarded the Robt S. Day Trophy by Maj. G. A. Thompson, district controller of air services. Officers elected for the forthcoming year were: W. Earl Brett, Chilliwack, president; E. R. Carswell, Vancouver, 1st vice-president; A. Laing, M.P., Vancouver, 2nd vice-president; E. Lando, Vancouver, secretary-treasurer.

Appointed to the board of directors were: F. M. Copley, Victoria; A. Duncan Bell-Irving, Vancouver; J. W. Beban, Nanaimo; Capt. B. J. Gadsden, Victoria; Ald. J. A. Milton, Kamloops; R. Gayer, Vancouver; Al. Michaud, Vancouver; Don Hermon, Trail; Ald. J. W. Johnson, Penticton; A. J. Knowland, Prince George; Art Seller, Langley.

Foreign Observers See 62 New Planes Built By British

FARNBOROUGH, Hampshire, Eng. (CP)—Britain Tuesday unveiled some of her top-secret jet planes as proof of her claim to supremacy in the development of supersonic aircraft.

At the giant field here which was a wartime base and now is the R.A.F.'s experimental aircraft establishment, aviation authorities from all parts of the world were given a peek at some of the newest military and civilian planes, among them aircraft capable of faster-than-sound stratospheric performance.

Air attaches from all foreign diplomatic missions, including Soviet Russia's, had been invited to the show.

Some top-secret military fighters were roped off and could only be viewed from a distance. Security guards stood everywhere and no performance data were given from many new models. But from what they did see, most foreign observers concluded that Britain is second to none in jet development.

Spread out on the massive field here were 62 of Britain's newest planes, with emphasis on jets. They ranged from the world's first jet-engined air liners down to trainers and a new giant helicopter, the 24-seater Clerva "Air Horse" which is expected soon to take the world's helicopter speed record.

The show is an annual event sponsored by the Society of British Aircraft Constructors. Foreign buyers were encouraged with a view to exceeding Britain's target export figure of $35,000,000 ($140,000,000) for this year.

Two Charged With Breaking, Entering

Rex W. Adams, from eastern Canada and Roy Christianson, Victoria, were remanded to Thursday without plea on two separate joint charges of breaking and entering business premises, when they appeared in city police court Tuesday morning.

They are alleged to have broken into the plant of Page the Cleaner, 2929 Douglas Street, on or about Aug. 31, and the Commonwealth Construction Company Ltd. premises at 616 Hillside Avenue on or about Aug. 29.

The accused were arrested by Det.-Sgt. Henry Jarvis and Detective Louis Callan.

Municipal Pension Meeting Scheduled

Mayor Percy George, chairman of the pensions committee of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, announced today the group will meet in Vancouver Sept. 16 with Samuel Eckler, consultant actuary of the Superannuation Commission, on the question of raising the basic pension for municipal employees.

Employees have asked for a $20 increase in their basic pension and the U.B.C.M. committee has supported them in their request.

The meeting with Mr. Eckler probably will reveal how much extra money the new pension plan will entail as well as other details.

The basic pension at the present is $30 for 20 years service and $1 for each year of service over 20 years. Employees want the $30 boosted to $50.

Attackers Lead In U.S. War Game Played In Germany

NUERNBERG, Germany (AP)—Defence forces took a theoretical beating Tuesday in the first United States manoeuvres in Europe under a joint command. The manoeuvres are the biggest held by U.S. forces here since the war.

A hard-hitting armored regiment of the "enemy from the east"—the role of green-clad U.S. constabulary troops—slashed to within eight miles of the Rhine River. It seized a bridge over the main river near Hanau and then advanced again.

Intelligence officers at this neutral headquarters of "Exercise Harvest" estimated the aggressor troops, with armor in advance, had plunged forward from 60 to 65 miles since the jump-off.

The manoeuvres placed 110,000 soldiers, sailors and airmen in the field. The "aggressor" army was pushed back during spring exercises, but it has theoretically regrouped and is attacking with two objectives—to break the Rhine River line and to seize Munich.

Fighter planes, including jets, are supporting the 18,000 constabulary troops in the offensive thrusts. Later the planes will switch to the defence. Navy craft are patrolling the waterways.

Oldest Local Student

The Greater Victoria School Board is continuing its search for the oldest living person who attended a public school in this area.

Officials said today the oldest known so far is 86 and they believe there are persons of greater age now living who went to school here.

They want the oldest local student to take part in opening ceremonies sometime in October of the new technical-vocational annex at Victoria High School.

Names of oldsters should be sent to Thos. Christie, secretary of the Greater Victoria School Board, at the Craigdarroch offices of the board, together with age and schools attended.

Wallace Prior pleaded guilty in city police court Tuesday to a charge of supplying wine to an Indian, and was fined $50, or in default one month in jail, by Magistrate H. C. Hall.

Western Canada Softball Series Opens

Jim Ireland of Timber Service takes high inside pitch for ball in opener of best-of-five series between Calgary Erics and loggers at Athletic Park last night. Bert Pegoraro, Calgary catcher, was later injured when sliding into third base and will be lost to team for balance of playoff. Umpire is Barney Barnswell. Second game will be played tonight under lights at Athletic Park at 8.

Major League Baseball Clubs Reject Repeal Of Bonus Rule

CINCINNATI (AP)—Major League baseball has voted against repealing the bonus rule, the office of Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler announced today.

In a brief statement, Walter Mulberry, secretary-treasurer of baseball, said: "The amendment to major and minor league rule 3 (F), the bonus rule, on which a mail vote from the major league clubs was requested Aug. 25, failed of passage."

The amendment, which had been approved by the major league executive committee, would have set aside provisions of the bonus rule for the new crop of players but would have kept them in effect for three years for those players already covered. Mulberry told reporters the amendment, "perhaps with modifications," would be on the agenda for the joint major league meeting in December.

George M. Trautman, president of the National Association, will not request minor leagues to vote on the amendment, considering the action of the major leagues, Mulberry said.

He declined to say how each of the 16 major league clubs voted.

Briefly, the bonus rule provides that a player, paid more than $5,000 to sign a major, triple-A or double-A league contract, may not be farmed out without waivers. The bonus amount for class A clubs is $4,500 and for B, C and D clubs $3,000.

Under an amendment, effective March 31, 1949, bonus players now signed may be optioned for one year by a club which buys or otherwise obtains their contract from the original assignor.

Loggers Appear Shaky In Losing To Calgary

Calgary Erics, prairie softball champions, today hold a one-game lead over Timber Service in the best-of-five series for the western Canada championship.

Brought to the city by Chuck Restell, former city baseball and softball star, the Calgary nine pounded out a total of 14 hits from the slants of Joe Bryant last night to down Wally Smith's B.C. champions, 9 to 1, before a crowd of 900 at Athletic Park.

Meanwhile Earl "Peewee" Gill, a pint-sized righthander, baffled the hard-hitting loggers with a variety of pitches and set the locals down with four hits. He lost a shutout in the eighth inning when Jack Battle singled home Gus Hilton, who had also singled.

Eric's were held in check for three innings but then broke loose for five runs, three of the markers being unearned, in the fourth inning. They added a singleton in the fifth, two in the seventh and counted their final tally in the eighth.

GETS FOUR HITS

Bill Black started the third inning outburst with a single. Sid Finney walked. George Alexander then followed with his second of four hits. After Gill had struck out, Abernathy singled.

Eric's were held in check for three innings but then broke loose for five runs, three of the markers being unearned, in the fourth inning. They added a singleton in the fifth, two in the seventh and counted their final tally in the eighth.

counted for the sixth run in the fifth and Alexander's home run into right field with one aboard gave the visitors two markers in the seventh. An infield hit by John Hamilton, an error by first baseman Mickey Smith and Jim Finney's one-bagger completed the scoring in the eighth.

George Alexander was the leading stickler of the evening with four for five, including his two-run homer. He drove in three runs. Battle picked up two of Timbermen's four hits.

Loggers' best scoring chance came in the fourth inning when they loaded the bases with no body out on two walks and an error by first baseman Jim Finney. Gill got the next two batters to force runners at the plate and was out of trouble when Doug Hudlin flied deep to right field for the third out.

FIVE ERRORS HURT

Eric's came up with two smart double plays during the game and were on the whole defensively superior to the locals. Gill struck out nine while walking six. Bryant whiffed seven and walked a pair. Five Victoria errors contributed to Bryant's downfall.

Vancouver Pacifics Lead Western Finals

WINNIPEG (CP)—A two-run homer by Elaine Irving in the seventh inning last night paved the way for Vancouver Pacifics' 3 to 1 victory over St. Vital Tigerettes in the first game of their best-of-five western Canada girls' softball championship series. Second game will be played here tonight.

Approximately 2,500 fans watched Tigerettes, Manitoba champions, take a 1 to 0 lead in the first inning and hold the edge until the top of the seventh when Pacifics counted twice. Vancouver, defending western champions, added their third run in the eighth.

It was a pitchers' battle most of the way, with Pacifics' Laura Nelson giving up only three hits and Tigerettes' Audrey Newell allowing seven. Neither hurler issued a walk.

St. Vital opened the scoring in the bottom of the first inning, when Janet Vickery got to first base on an error, stole second, went to third on an infield out, and came home on Ev Halsall's single to left field.

Nelson and Newell were in complete control of the game until the start of the seventh, when Dot Saddington, Pacific third baseman and captain, led off with a single.

After an infield flyout, Irving caught one of Newell's fast pitches, sending the ball soaring over leftfielder Audrey Freeman's head for a home run to score two runs.

FINAL RUN
Pacifics connected for their third run in the eighth when Gabby McLaren singled and went to second when Jackie Stokes, St. Vital second sacker, dropped a perfect throw on an attempted steal. Saddington's long single scored McLaren.

The Hornets said no cash is involved. They gave Tod Sloan of Toronto and Harry Taylor of St. James, Man., both right-wingers, and Ray Ceresino, a left-winger. Solinger, 23, of Edmonton, has only two years of A.H.L. experience.

Cougars Battle Tacoma Club In Exhibition Hockey Here Oct. 6

Victoria's hockey fans will get an early, unscheduled look at the 1949-50 Cougars. Fred Hutchinson, manager of the Cougars, today completed arrangements for an exhibition game against the Tacoma Rockets at the Memorial Arena on Thursday, Oct. 6.

The exhibition tussle will precede by two days the Cougars' Pacific Coast Hockey League opener at New Westminster on Oct. 8 and will serve as a final tune-up for Victoria's debut. The Cougars will open their home schedule in actual P.C.H.L. competition against the Portland Eagles on Thanksgiving Day afternoon, Monday, Oct. 10.

Tacoma's Rockets are managed and coached by Murray (Muzz) Patrick, native Victorian and son of Lester Patrick, owner of the Cougars. The Rockets will train at home, move to Nainaimo for two games against the Clippers on Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 before winding up their training activities here.

There is a possibility that the Rockets and Cougars will play another exhibition game at Nainaimo on Oct. 5. Negotiations now are under way and if the Cougars do not go against Tacoma they may take on the amateur Clippers.

While awaiting word from owner Lester Patrick's mission to Montreal and New York in quest of a player-coach, Hutchinson today was completing arrangements for the opening of the Cougars' season ticket sale at the hockey office at 825 Fort Street at 9 tomorrow morning.

It will not be necessary for season ticket fans to pay in advance for all 35 games on the Cougars' schedule. Instead, season reservations will be made upon payment of a deposit covering the last five games of the season and those desiring the choicer locations then will pay for tickets on a game-by-game basis.

The Cougars' schedule will include 20 Friday night games, two on Saturdays, 10 on Tuesdays and three on Monday afternoon holidays, Thanksgiving Day, Boxing Day and Jan. 2. It will include seven appearances in Victoria by the Vancouver Canucks and New Westminster Royals, six by Tacoma, five each by Portland and Seattle and one each by Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, Oakland and Fresno.

Bill Prior Stars As City Nine Captures Baseball Tournament

The Victoria entry represented by players from Eagles, Pitzer and Nex and the Royal Canadian Navy won the Courtenay invitation baseball tournament over the weekend, defeating Campbell River in the final, 6 to 4.

The local club took possession of the Courtenay Perpetual Trophy and also top prize-money of $300.

Pitcher Bill Prior starred in the series. He hurled the Victoria nine to a 12 to 1 decision over Duncan in the first game, pitched two innings of relief in the second and seven innings of relief in the third game. In 18 innings Prior struck out 27.

Following their triumph over Duncan, the locals edged Cumberland, 6 to 4, in the semifinal. Jeff Worrell started on the hill and struck out 12 before being relieved by Prior. Stan Davies also whiffed a pair in the final tilt.

The following players represented Victoria: A. Wright, Clarkson, Reynolds, Bertrand, Parkins, Prior, Worrell, Molr, K. Wright, Davies, Bishop, J. R. McKinlay acted as coach and trainer.

No-Hit, No-Run Game For Bill Connelly

TOLEDO (AP)—Bill Connelly, erratic Toledo right-hander, Tuesday hurled a no-hit, no-run game as the last-place Mudhens defeated Louisville Colonels 5 to 0 in an American Association contest.

He was the first Mudhen pitcher to accomplish the feat in a nine-inning game in the 40-year history of Wayne Field.

W.I.L. Playoffs Get Under Way Tonight

Western International League playoffs start tonight in Yakima and Vancouver. The two front-running clubs entertain third-place Spokane and fourth-place Wenatchee, respectively, in the first two games of a best-of-five series.

Winners of the two series will tangle next week for a top prize of $1,500. The second-place squad will receive $1,000 and each of the eliminated teams will split $750.

Bernard Docusen Wins At Seattle

SEATTLE (AP)—Bernard Docusen, 150, New Orleans, drummed out a 10-round decision over Milo Savage, 158, Seattle, in a boxing main event here Tuesday night.

Other results: Blackie Vanderveer, 136, and Buddy Gilman, 135, Drew (6); Terry Forrest, 140, Vancouver, B.C., outpointed Marvin Smith, 139, Fort Lewis (6); Jim Daly, 147, Vancouver, B.C., outpointed Bobby Davis, 150, Seattle (4); Rocky Lewis, 158, Vancouver, B.C., stopped Art James, 160, Seattle (2).

McDougald Leads A's Through 1949 Season

Gil McDougald didn't lead the W.I.L. with his .342 batting mark but he paced the A's in everything but three-base hits and home runs, final unofficial averages for the season reveal.

The second baseman topped his teammates in hitting with 30 hits, second at .320; he paced the club in hits with 187, in runs with 127, in runs batted in with 117, in two-base hits with 44 and in total bases with 284.

Buccola took three other runner-up spots with 181 hits for the season, 122 runs scored and 267 total bases.

John Hack, Len Noren and Charlie Balassi all finished over the 300 mark, Hack being the only other member of the 1949 club to bat in more than 100 runs.

HOMERUN LEADER
Ray Jacobs led in home runs with 17, Buccola in triples with 12, sacrifice hits with 24 and stolen bases with 15.

City Softball Clubs Rate Highly In B.C.

By BILL WALKER
Regardless of the outcome of the present western Canada softball series, the fact remains that Victoria softball is on a par with the mainland variety, if not slightly better. In two playoffs, Victoria teams have come out on top, Timber Service winning the zone final and Douglas Tire the B.C. title.

In the women's section Hudson's Bay Beavers gave the Vancouver Pacifics a real struggle before bowing out, while Red's Service still hold a claim on part of the women's senior B crown. Since the big fiasco up in the interior when Red's apparently lost a game by going to a town where they were supposed to be while the game was scheduled somewhere else, the B.C. body has backed down from its original stand.

As matters now stand the disputed game (originally won by Pentiction by default) has been thrown out and the series officially stands at one game apiece. Unless a sudden-death game can be arranged in Vancouver the championship trophy will be shared, each team having possession for six months.

As in the senior A men's zone finals in Vancouver, B.C. officials this week thought so little of Army and Navy chances after the first game against Douglas Tire that they made plans to go home Sunday. But things didn't work out that way. However, the officials did go home before the fifth and final game.

GREAT RECORD
Star of the B.C. finals even in defeat was Russ Briscoe of Army and Navy. The veteran pitcher, who singlehanded pitched the New Westminster nine into the final was just worn out on Monday. It was his sixth game in six days and his 45th game of the season.

It would have been an heroic story if Army and Navy had won for they finished last in the Major A Men's League and then swept through into the finals against all opposition with Briscoe carrying the load. The visitors certainly did not appreciate the umpiring talents of Murray Dummett in the series. However, the brunt of defeat must fall on somebody's shoulders and the arbiters are usually the "fall guys." It's a tough job and one that few seek.

With the basketball season just around the corner, rumors have it that an all-star team is being formed in the city with the Dominion championship as the ultimate objective. The story is that Doug Peden and Art Chapman, two former amateur cage stars and more recently pros with the Vancouver Hornets, will form the nucleus of the squad. It is also reported that Norm Baker is returning to amateur ranks this season.

Verley Advances In Jasper Golf Tourney

JASPER PARK, Alta. (CP)—Crooner Bing Crosby struck his stride Tuesday in the first round of the Totem Pole golf tournament eliminating Frank Dunn of Seattle 4 and 3 while the other favorite, medalist George Coleman of Miami, Okla., beat Pete Rule of Calgary by the same score.

Crosby, who just barely qualified Monday with an 18-hole score of 82, went the first nine holes in even par and was only two over when the match ended.

In the championship round Charlie Read, Winnipeg, beat Dick Schroeder, Astoria, Ore., 3 and 2; George Norgan, Vancouver, beat L. J. Wagner, Vancouver, 2 up; W. J. Gilbert, Mount Vernon, Wash., beat D. Kinneer, Vancouver, 2 and 1; C. Perkins, Seattle, beat L. Campbell, Vancouver, 3 and 2; Wyd Thompson, Vancouver, beat Percy Williams, Vancouver, 1 up; Dr. J. D. Pittsburgh Club Recalls 12 From Minor Leagues

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh Pirates recalled 12 minor leaguers today, boosting their roster to 37—three less than they're allowed after Sept. 1 under major league rules.

General Manager Roy Hamer said which of the 12 will be brought up before the end of the season will depend on manager Billy Meyer's needs—and on the duration of playoffs in which some of the players may participate.

The players are:

From Indianapolis of the American Association—Outfielder Ted Beard, first baseman Les Fleming, second baseman Jack Cassini, catcher Earl Turner, pitcher Forrest Maize and pitcher Elmer Riddle.

From Albany, N.Y., of the Eastern League—Pitcher Stanley Ferek.

From Davenport, Iowa, of the Three-I League—Infielder Reno DeBenedetti, pitcher Fred Strobel.

From York, Pa., of the Interstate League—Outfielder Bob Forbes, pitcher Fred Uhlman.

From Waco, Texas, of the Big State League—Outfielder John Escalante.

NEWARK, N.J. — George (Sugar) Costner, 150½, Cincinnati, stopped Junius Woods, 149, New York (5).

Colorful Berra Ready For Play Against Boston

NEW YORK (UP)—Brash Yogi Berra bounced back onto the New York Yankee ready-for-duty list in the nick of time today, and it's likely he will play against the Boston Red Sox tonight.

Berra, who was sidelined exactly one month ago with a broken thumb, provides a hitting punch the Yanks very much need as they defend their game and a half American League lead in three games against the second-place Sox—one game tonight, one tomorrow afternoon and the third Friday afternoon.

Yogi worked out with the club yesterday and then said, "I'm ready. I think I'll play."

Yankee manager Casey Stengel was cautious. "After the injuries I've had on this club the last three weeks, I can't pick my line-up until a half-hour before game time. But of course I'll use Berra if he's able to play."

DIMAGGIO OKAY

At the same time Berra chirped up with his cheering news, Joe Dimaggio set aside fears that he might join the Yankee cripples' corner. DIMAGGIO was pulled out of the New York-Philadelphia second game Monday because of leg cramps.

However, he revealed that the cramps are nothing new—and that in this particular case his leg felt okay by the time the game ended.

The Yankees planned to pitch Allie Reynolds against Boston's Jack Kramer in the game tonight. Reynolds has a 14-4 record, Kramer a 4-7 mark.

Buffalo Cinches Baseball Pennant

MONTREAL (CP)—Buffalo Bisons Tuesday night clinched the International pennant when they defeated Montreal Royals 11 to 5, while second-place Rochester Red Wings were splitting a doubleheader in Toronto with the Leafs.

It was the first pennant for the Bisons since 1936 and they clinched it that year on the same field.

Tourney was featured by expert marksmen winning high individual honors in two matches by bettering the scores of the topflight master shots. Sgt. Charlie Webb of the city police force and Malcolm Edwards of South Bend, Wash., accomplished this feat.

Mrs. Irene McLean of Nanaimo was winner of the women's B.C. championship 22 calibre match. She posted a 177 out of a possible 200.

In second place was Mrs. Helen Gibbs of Raymond, Wash., with a 176. Mrs. T. Webb was third with a 173 and Mrs. Sally Walker of Abbotsford placed fourth. Her score was 172.

Two top shots in the meet were E. T. O'Dell of Raymond and Sub-Inspector Jake Young, B.C. police here. Between them they took seven of the eight high

Eddie Sawyer Leads Phillies Out Of Baseball Wilderness

NEW YORK (UP)—How about time out today from those breathless pennant races for a look at something pretty extraordinary—the only Philadelphia Philly ball club to be a good first division bet in 17 years.

In fact manager Eddie Sawyer, the portly "Moses" who is leading the Phils out of that second division wilderness, thinks his hustling, scrapping kid ball club, which is now well anchored in third place may be in the thick of next year's pennant scramble itself.

Not disguising his elation over the fact that since Aug. 15 his boys have played the best ball of any club in the majors, Sawyer believes now that they will be even better next season.

"They had to prove they could hold their own in the big time this year," he said. "They did even better than that and what is most important of all they're at their best now when the going is the toughest."

BEST RECORD

Since Aug. 15 when the usually kindly Eddie lashed out at the scattering of loafers and heavy eaters on the club the Phils have won 17 and lost but seven and that's the best record in the majors topping Detroit's 16-8 and the Boston Red Sox 15-7 marks for the identical period.

Yesterday when the New York Giants won the second game of a doubleheader 4 to 1, after the Phils took a thrilling opener 4 to 2 in 10 innings, they ended a seven-game winning streak and a bid for three consecutive doubleheader sweeps in as many days.

The Phils trailed 2 to 0 in the opener, going into the ninth, but blond Richie Ashburn tied it up with a two-run single and they won it in the 10th with two more runs on singles by Del Ennis, Stan Lopata and Bill Nicholson plus an error by right fielder Willie Marshall.

Sheldon Jones broke the streak with a six-hit pitching job in the second game in which he was given noble co-operation by battery-mate Wes Westrum, who hit a three-run homer. Nicholson hit a 400-foot homer for the only Phil run. Whitey Lockman hit a first game Giant homer.

Meanwhile, the Brooklyn Dodgers cut the St. Louis National League lead to one game with a rollicking 10 to 2 victory over the Boston Braves. Five runs in the second inning told the tale. Even in triumph, however, there was some sadness for the Dodgers—big Don Newcombe missed his chance to tie a consecutive shutouts record.

LOSES STREAK

Don was seeking his fourth and he had 30 scoreless innings to his credit at the start of last night's game. However, Del Crandall's fly ball to Bob Elliott in the second to end all that. Sissy Slat's fifth homer in the seventh produced the other Braves run. Don did make the league lead 4-3 strikeouts, however, with 125, including his seven last night.

A big inning—but a late one—was the story at Pittsburgh. Cincinnati scored four runs with two out in the 10th to beat the Pirates 6 to 3 in the only other major league game scheduled.

Babe Pratt Named

VANCOUVER (CP)—One of hockey's so-called "bad boys" has been appointed coach of the New Westminster Royals for the 1949-50 Coast Hockey League season.

He's big Walter (Babe) Pratt, who has won many honors in 15 years of professional hockey but who has always been denied a coaching job because coaches say he "never grew up."

Royals' manager, Kenny MacKenzie, is convinced Pratt, now nudging 33, will "settle down" and make an excellent replacement for Alex Shibicky, a former New York Ranger teammate.

Raymond Team Captures Revolver Shoot Honors

More than 50 pistol marksmen and women from Pacific northwest points took over the city police revolver club's Thetis Lake ranges over the week-end and battled it out for prizes and championships at stake in the B.C.R.A.-sponsored tournament.

Entrants ranged in age from 15 to 75. Jack Betts Jr., of Victoria, was the youngest and H. E. "Dad" Wales of Seattle was the old-timer. Both capturing several prizes.

Tourney was featured by expert marksmen winning high individual honors in two matches by bettering the scores of the topflight master shots. Sgt. Charlie Webb of the city police force and Malcolm Edwards of South Bend, Wash., accomplished this feat.

Mrs. Irene McLean of Nanaimo was winner of the women's B.C. championship 22 calibre match. She posted a 177 out of a possible 200.

In second place was Mrs. Helen Gibbs of Raymond, Wash., with a 176. Mrs. T. Webb was third with a 173 and Mrs. Sally Walker of Abbotsford placed fourth. Her score was 172.

Two top shots in the meet were E. T. O'Dell of Raymond and Sub-Inspector Jake Young, B.C. police here. Between them they took seven of the eight high

Canadian Golfers Finish Even With British Cup Stars

TORONTO (CP)—Eight of Canada's top amateur shotsmiths Tuesday held Britain's 1949 Walker Cup team to a 6 to 6 draw in a 36-hole competition at the Toronto Golf and Country club here.

The Britons won the morning singles matches 5 to 3, but the Canadians came back in the afternoon to sweep the best ball foursomes 3 to 1.

In the singles, Gerry Kesselring of Kitchener put Canadian temporarily in front with a surprise 4 and 3 win over British amateur champion Max McCready of London.

Nick Weslock of Windsor defeated Ron White of Southport, one up.

Phil Farley, captain of the Canadians, halved his match with Jimmy Bruen, County Cork.

Gerry Mcklam, London, defeated Allan Boes, Winnipeg, one up and Art Perowne, 19-year-old Norwich player, beat veteran Jack Nash of London, Ont., 6 and 5.

Ernest Millward, Bourne-mouth, defeated Don Vary, Brantford, 4 and 3, and Joe Carr, Dublin, beat Tommy Riddell of Montreal by the same score.

The eighth match—between Tommy Hunter of Montreal and Ken Thom of Croydon—was halved.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—Reports trickling in from Brooklyn via the subway is that some of the Dodger players are distinctly unhappy about Barney Shotton's handling of the club. . . . Regardless of that, there's a strong feeling that Shotton will be allowed his wish to retire to Barrow, Fla., next season.

Come to think of it, more than one major league manager must be feeling uneasy now that the season is in the homestretch, notably, of course, Jack Onslow of the Chicago White Sox. . . . There's a growing suspicion that Billy Southworth won't return to the Boston Braves. . . . Bill Veech might renew his efforts to depose Lou Boudreau, unless he disposes of the Cleveland Indians first. . . . and who'd want to say for sure that Billy Meyer, whose health isn't too good, Frank Frisch, Leo Durocher or Zack Taylor will be on duty next spring?

If Pancho Gonzales turns pro, as expected, Australia's Frank Sedgman should clean up in amateur tennis next year. And the pros likely would make him their next objective. . . . Texas report says Bill Pierce, a Pirate farmhand, virtually pitched Waco into the Big State League playoffs. All he did was fan three top Austin batters to protect a lead, then take his regular turn the next night and whiff seven more for a season total of 275.

Arctic Ice Pack Offshore As Men Wash In Salt Water

By JIM MCKEACHIE
(Victoria Times Staff Reporter)

POINT BARROW, Alaska (by radio)—An unusual year for ice conditions around this northernmost point of Alaska Tuesday indicated that Arctic Marine Ltd.'s motor vessel Yellowknife Expeditor, en route to Great Slave Lake, may make the important leg of her 5,000-mile voyage across the Arctic Ocean without encountering the southern fringes of the great polar ice cap. Except for a few small floes which blew in early in August, no ice has been seen since the main pack retreated about July 17 to its usual summer position of 30 miles or more off the coast. Flt. Lt. Scott Alexander, ex-Mountie and currently the Royal Canadian Air Force's Arctic expert, who is taking a busman's holiday by acting as Arctic pilot aboard this 160-foot ship on his annual leave, said the long absence of the pack from close to shore is quite phenomenal. Reports from points further east along the coast are similar, which means, provided a sudden strong northwest wind does not come up for any length of time, the Expeditor should make the run to Tuktoyaktuk, at the mouth of the Mackenzie River, in about three days. The ship anchored at Point Barrow Monday night to get her radio transmission repaired. Meanwhile, aboard, showers and ice of the washing machine are forbidden in order to conserve the limited water supply. Daily ablutions are being carried out with salt water.

Fresh water tanks will be replenished at Tuktoyaktuk, where excess cargo will be unloaded to reduce the draught to under four feet. Then the ship will proceed up-river to Yellowknife. If necessary, fresh water could be pumped aboard from pools which form on old ice-floes.

Victoria and District Cornish Association will meet at the home of Mrs. W. G. Williams, 2177 Smythe Street, Sept. 10 at 8.

Pilots' Errors, Not Mechanical Failures, Cause Of Accidents

At least 80 or 90 per cent of all airplane accidents resulted from errors in judgment on the parts of pilots, Maj. G. A. Thompson, district controller of air services for the Department of Transport, told delegates attending the annual convention of the British Aviation Council at the Empress Hotel Tuesday.

Maj. Thompson said mechanical breakdowns were rarely to blame for aircraft accidents. He suggested psycho-analysis tests as the only way the pilot who did not use his common sense could be eliminated. All other medical and mechanical tests of a pilot's ability did not disclose an irresponsible pilot, he added.

Robert S. Day, an insurance company representative, warned that insurance rates would climb to prohibitive levels unless action were taken to reduce aircraft accidents.

The delegates objected to what they described as "unfavorable publicity" given to aircraft accidents. They passed a resolution urging newspapers to print reports of accidents in such a way as to improve the public opinion of aviation generally.

U.B.C.M. REGISTRATION—Talk of municipal and civic administration was foremost at the Empress Hotel today when the four Greater Victoria municipalities welcomed more than 300 delegates and guests to the annual conference of the B.C. Union of Municipalities. Picture shows delegates registering for three-day meeting. Signing register is Mayor Alex Maxwell of Cumberland. Next to him are Frank Kitto, clerk of Port Alberni; Ald. George Folkard and Ald. M. Wren, both of Port Alberni.

Canada's Short-Wave Radio Equal To Any, Dilworth Says

Canada's short-wave radio service is equal to any short-wave radio signal on the North American continent and as good as the BBC, Dr. Ira Dilworth, director of international services, Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, told a public meeting held under the auspices of the United Nations Association in the Prince Robert House Tuesday.

Dr. Dilworth pointed out that Canada's short-wave service was broadcast to Europe, Latin America, Australia and New Zealand. The service's objective was to "project" to the world the life, opinions and point of view of Canadians as clearly and as honestly as possible, he said.

The speaker traced the history and development of the radio service which originated in 1944 primarily to send messages to Canadians serving overseas in the war and to check German radio propaganda. Since the war the short-wave radio service had become increasingly important, he said, because of the part Canada was playing in international affairs.

Stating that radio service was doing a great deal in correcting untruths broadcast by Radio Moscow, Dr. Dilworth said programs were broadcast to nations around Russia.

"We don't broadcast to Russia itself," he said, "because of our limited funds. We concentrate our broadcasts on countries around the fringe of Russia."

As an example of Russia propaganda methods, Dr. Dilworth said that at the time the Atlantic Pact was signed Moscow radio broadcast that both labor and the young people of Canada opposed the pact but were unable to express their views because the radio and newspapers were under capitalistic control.

Dr. Dilworth said that in combatting Radio Moscow, Canada's radio service used the indirect technique of correcting misapprehensions. This method has proved more effective than direct rebuttal used by the Voice of America.

Short wave is one of the media which can be used most effectively for the exchange of culture, information about commerce, economics and politics," he said. "It is one of the firmest bases for world understanding."

The radio service was appreciated by the European people, he said. Since the short wave station was established about 125,000 letters had been received from people from all parts of the world.

Dr. Dilworth said he believed the radio service would receive approximately 50,000 letters from listeners this year.

He said the short wave radio carried programs for the United Nations which broadcast one and half hours every morning to Europe and a half-hour to Australia and New Zealand in the evening. These broadcasts were made up at Lake Success and sent on to Montreal. The time on the air was given free to the United Nations.

"The most important item on our program," he said, "is the news service of world and Canadian events. Straight factual news is broadcast. We don't attempt to editorialize or to slant the news in any manner."

Apart from four news broadcasts, he said, the short wave radio broadcast news commentaries and documentary programs dealing chiefly on some aspect of Canadian life. This might include a description of British Columbia's salmon and logging industry.

In addition to this, he said, drama, some of it reflecting the life of Canada, was broadcast to the outside world.

He said two 50,000-watt transmitters in New Brunswick sent these programs over the air to listeners in Europe and other parts of the world.

E. S. Jones Named Deputy Minister For Works Department

E. S. Jones, an employee of the provincial works department since 1921, today was appointed deputy minister of the department to succeed the late Norman W. Macpherson.

The appointment was announced by Works Minister E. C. Carson. Educated in England, Mr. Jones came to Canada in 1908. He did land survey work, railway location and construction until 1916 when he joined the army. He served overseas from 1916 to 1918 with the Fifth Canadian Siege Battery.

On his return to Canada he continued with railway location survey until 1921 when he joined the provincial works department as instrument-man on the Mara Sicomos Road. From 1922 to 1923 he was resident engineer on construction of the Oliver-Osoyoos Road.

In 1923 he was appointed to the permanent staff as assistant district engineer in charge of the North Okanagan district with headquarters at Vernon. In 1925 he was promoted to district engineer for Cariboo district. Since then he has also served as district engineer for the Kamloops, Cranbrook and New Westminster districts.

He served in organizing and directing capacities during and following the Fraser Valley flood in 1948 and later was brought to Victoria as maintenance engineer in charge of maintenance operations throughout the province. At the same time he was appointed to the Highway Board.

Says Canada Ahead Of United States In Jet Airliners

Canada was ahead of the United States in the development and production of jet propulsion airliners, according to Roscoe B. Bancroft, speaker at the banquet of the 1949 conference of the B.C. Aviation Council held at the Empress Hotel Tuesday.

Mr. Bancroft, assistant to the regional administrator for aviation training department of the Civil Aeronautics Administration at Seattle, said Canadian jet airliners would be bought by the United States as soon as they were on the market.

The speaker also said that more than 13,000,000 Americans flew in commercial aircraft last year in the United States.

Mr. Bancroft was introduced by M. E. Pringle, vice-president of the International Northwest Aviation Council. He was thanked by Trade and Industry Minister L. H. Eyres.

Two Fined $50 Each

John McColl and Charles Muston were each fined $50 by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today. McColl pleaded guilty to a charge that he did unlawfully keep a common gaming house located at 534 Johnson Street and Muston pleaded guilty to using a room at 536 Yates Street for the purpose of recording bets.

Sgt. Thomas Banister gave the court the circumstances. He was accompanied on the raids on Sept. 2 by Constable Keith Hollett. A slot machine and a pinball machine found on the Johnson Street premises were ordered confiscated by Magistrate Hall. Sgt. Banister said he found racing paraphernalia at the Yates Street room.

B.C. Municipalities Press For Half Of 3% Sales Tax

The provincial government has not heard the last from B.C. municipalities in their fight for a one-half instead of a one-third share of the 3 per cent sales tax.

In his opening address to the 46th annual convention of the B.C. Union of Municipalities at the Empress Hotel today, Mayor Percy George of Victoria called for greater efforts from delegates in pressing for the extra revenue.

"I feel that the matter is of such importance to all municipalities that it should continue to be pressed with vigor by all members of this union, individually and collectively," the Victoria mayor said.

Approximately 200 delegates—mayors, Reeves, aldermen, councillors and village commissioners—from all parts of the province registered between 9 and 10 today for the three-day meeting.

There were over 100 wives and guests as well and indications were that the convention would be one of the most successful the union has held.

MAYOR GEORGE PRESIDES

Mayor George is president of the organization and this is the first time in 15 years that a convention has been held here. It is the first time, too, that a Victoria mayor has presided over a Victoria convention of the U.B.C.M.

Mayor George's address was given in the lower lounge of the Empress immediately after registrations had been completed.

He reviewed the year he has held office as president of the union, and made several appointments. It was on the union's representations to Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb in November last year that semi-annual payments were instituted for distribution of sales tax proceeds. Mayor George urged delegates to consider with particular care resolution coming before them on education and hospitalization. He appointed a special committee to consider these resolutions and report on them. The committee: Mayor T. H. Waters, Nelson; Mayor Frank Goldsworthy, North Vancouver; Reeve D. D. Chapman, North Cowichan; P. C. Stewart, Tadanac.

PRACTICAL RESOLUTIONS

The president stressed also that resolutions passed by the convention must be of practical nature.

He said the union had passed resolutions at previous conventions which were contrary to stands taken earlier. The union was weakened by action of this kind.

This was the case on the question of establishment of an assessment commission. Last year the union executive was not united on this question and representations to the provincial cabinet were weak as a result.

Mayor George thought the need for an assessment commission was great. It was recommended in the Goldenberg Report and the union should make every effort to see one established.

Municipalities had representation of the assessment equalization board but this body did not adjust assessments.

"I am of the opinion that assessments must be made more equitable as they are the very cornerstone of municipal finance," Mayor George stated.

Clear Skies But Cooler Weather

While office workers, laborers and school children "sweated it out" again today, those fortunate enough to have their vacations this month were basking in the warm sunshine and cool breezes today as the city enjoyed its 13th consecutive day of warm weather.

The weatherman indicated today, however, that the present warm spell may come to an end before the week-end. Forecast for Victoria reads: "Continuing clear today and Thursday, but a little cooler." It was announced that no immediate change in the weather is expected throughout the province during the next two days, however.

High temperatures were recorded in the city again Tuesday, but the mercury slipped off two degrees from the hottest temperature of the year recorded here on Sunday and Monday. Maximum reading at the Gonzales Meteorological Observatory on Tuesday was 80 degrees, but the actual temperature in the downtown section was likely about 86 degrees. Today's maximum temperature is expected to be 78 degrees and Thursday's, 75.

Royston Forest Fire Roars Uncontrolled Over 75 Acres

A 75-acre slash fire raged out of control in the Royston district today while B.C. Forest Service headquarters officers warned that extreme care must be shown in the tinder-dry forests with the hazard readings now at high.

The Royston fire, first reported Tuesday, jumped guards and roared over 75 acres Tuesday night and this morning. The area burned was heavy 1948 slash.

A crew of 20 company men, using two bulldozers and four pumps, is striving to hold the advance of the blaze. Officials here said they hope to control the fire today.

Clifton Webb Stars In 'Belvedere' Show

An actor since he was seven years old, Clifton Webb has sung in grand opera, rivaled the Vernon Castles as a dancer, starred in musical comedies and in Broadway dramas, and is today an accepted star at the crest of the Hollywood wave.

This suave, versatile sophisticated is again cutting up on celluloid, this time in the title role of "Mr. Belvedere Goes to College," the new Twentieth Century-Fox comedy which stars Shirley Temple with him and opens today at the Atlas Theatre.

ROYAL THEATRE
"Sorrowful Jones," now at the Royal Theatre, has an interesting foreword by Walter Winchell who points out the places along Broadway where Runyon spent his time and gathered material for the tales all America knows and loves.

CAPITOL THEATRE
Caleb Peterson, prominent negro singer and actor, plays an important role in "Any Number Can Play," now at the Capitol Theatre, starring Clark Gable and Alexis Smith.

OAK BAY THEATRE
Gene Lockhart's plans to return to Broadway met a snag when M-G-M cast him as Elizabeth Taylor's domineering uncle in "Synthia," drama of a young girl's first romance, now showing on the Oak Bay screen.

Where To Go Tonight

ATLAS—Mr. Belvedere Goes to College, starring Shirley Temple.

CAPITOL—Any Number Can Play, starring Alexis Smith and Clark Gable.

DOMINION—One Night of Love, starring Grace Moore.

FOX—William Powell in "Mr. Peabody and the Mermaid."

OAK BAY—"Synthia," starring Elizabeth Taylor.

ODEON—Patricia Roc in "The Perfect Woman."

PLAZA—"Thanks a Million," starring William Tracy.

RIO—On the stage, "Kraman's House of Magic."

ROYAL—Bob Hope in "Sorrowful Jones."

$1,000,000 Project For Victoria Plant

OTTAWA (Special) — A contract for the construction of a Canadian government ship has been awarded to Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd., Victoria, it was learned here today.

Formal announcement of the awarding of the contract is scheduled to be made tonight by Defence Minister Brooke Claxton at a launching ceremony in Quebec City.

The Victoria project is part of an $8,000,000 shipbuilding program to provide six new naval and other vessels, including four minesweepers and a trawler-gate vessel for the navy, and a large vessel for the transport department.

The orders are in addition to contracts for three anti-submarine escort vessels which were placed last summer at $8,000,000 apiece. These three are being built in Halifax, Montreal and Vancouver.

Ducks Becoming Pest In Alberta

BROOKS, Alta. (CP)—Hail, drought and infestation of crops have plagued most Alberta farms to a marked degree this year. But farmers in the prosperous eastern irrigation district surrounding this southern Alberta town 108 miles southeast of Calgary, have a new problem—ducks.

Ducks, thousands of them, swoop down daily on fields and gorge themselves on ripening grain. What they don't eat they trample to the ground.

Ontario Liberals To Name New Chief

TORONTO (CP)—Farrukh Oliver resigned today as Ontario leader of the Liberal Party. He had held the post since 1947.

Norman Matthews, president of the Ontario Liberal Association, made public a letter from Mr. Oliver urging a convention be called as quickly as possible to make a successor.

Mr. Matthews said the management committee of the Ontario association will meet in London, Ont., Oct. 1 and it will set an "approximate date" for the convention.

The 45-year-old member of the Ontario Legislature for Grey South has been a member of the Legislature since 1926, first winning his seat when he was 22 and being re-elected in every provincial election since.

Honolulu-Bound U.S. Plane Returns After Fire Scare

MEDFORD, Ore. (AP)—A Northwest Airlines plane landed safely today after turning back on a Seattle-to-Honolulu flight when a warning light indicated fire in the baggage compartment.

On landing, no evidence was found there had been a fire, officials said.

The plane carried 11 passengers and six crew members. Fire extinguishers were used while the plane was returning here, and on landing, baggage was removed but no evidence

3,750-Ft. Runways For Alaska Airports

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Master plans for new 3,750-foot runways at the Fort Yukon and Kotzebue airports were approved Tuesday by Chris Lamplé, regional administrator of public airports.

The fields are the first to be approved under a federal aid airport program.

Roughriders Ready To Meet Stampeders

REGINA (CP)—Fred (General) Grant, coach of Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Western Interprovincial Football Union, isn't worried about any particular part of Calgary Stampeders' offensive.

Roughriders, fresh from their 20 to 0 victory over Winnipeg Blue Bombers here on Labor Day, meet Stampeders in Calgary Saturday.

"We'll have to be on the alert to catch Spalding's passes, but if we're on, we should give them plenty to handle," said Grant.

"And after Calgary we're not underestimating Edmonton either. They'll be no soft touch." It will be a great evening for Darrell (Del) Warden when Riders tangle with the Stampeders. Warden, chunky 25-year-old backfielder, switched from Stampeders to the Riders last fall.

He was the sixth United States import on the Rider roster, and Stampeders declined to allow him to see action in games against them, although the Winnipeg Blue Bombers gave him the green light.

Two Held In North For Armed Robbery

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP)—Two men, one said to be from the United States, are in custody here on a charge of armed robbery and theft of a car near Bridlewood, B.C., Aug. 9. They are Woodrow Lambert, 46, of Clarkson, Wash., and Patrick Frakes, 22, no given address. They were arrested Sunday.

The pair are alleged to be the men who held up Grant Dudley of Penticton, B.C., robbed him of $300 and took his car after he stopped to offer them assistance on the highway.

TRAIL Has Potent Squad To Field Against Nanaimo

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—When and if the Trail Golden Bears lacrosse squad pulls out for Nanaimo and the British Columbia senior B final series with Native Sons, Trail coach Carl Gallicco feels he'll have a potent team to field.

But a misunderstanding about series dates had thrown Trail officials into a quandary early today. Earlier, the team had planned to leave here Thursday night for Nanaimo, understanding the first game was scheduled for Saturday night.

However, a wire from Nanaimo today says the series will open Friday, which would mean leaving tonight.

This year's interior championship squad is stronger than last year's B.C. championship Spokane Dynamo aggregation. The nucleus of the team is composed of ex-Dynamos.

Tony Merlo is a sound goalie. Up front are Marcus Smith, Jackie, Erbe and Joe LaFace, and Jack Gallicco from last year's club, plus newcomers Herbie Moon, Bobby Kendall, Nick Turk and Gordie Bruce, Smith, the LaFaces and Turk, a former Vancouver Indian player, are standouts.

On defence are Pie LaFace, Ev Kuhn, Freddy Graves and Spud Martin and Jim LaFace from last year's team plus Chuck Casey and Roy Kasler.
